Final Bulletins

Sunk in Battle

MACEIO, Brazil (AP)—Unverified reports along the coast between here and Maragogy indicated late today that as many as four vessels may have been engaged in a week-end naval battle off the Brazilian coast, and that one may have been sunk.

Reports from the Maragogy vicinity said bodies had been washed ashore on the beach of Barra Grande, south of that coast town. These reports, however, were not confirmed.

Japs in Chengchow

SHANGHAI (AP)—Japanese success in a drive southward across the Yellow River in northern Honan Province and subsequent occupation of Chengchow, railway centre, was acknowledged tonight in a Chungking communique. The Chinese, it said, evacuated the city Saturday night after combat in the streets.

Cost of Living At New High

OTTAWA (CP)—Cost of living in Canada advanced to a new high on September 2 of 114.7, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported late today. The cost of living index at August 1 was 113.7.

The new increase in the index figure was again due mainly to a rise in food costs although clothing and home furnishings also showed gains. All food sub-groups showed gains except vegetables and cereals, with dairy products and eggs recording the largest gains.

Plane Wreck Found

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Wreckage of the twin-motored B-18 United States army bomber missing since last Thursday night with six officers and men aboard was sighted today on San Francisco peaks, north of Flagstaff, Ariz., the Tucson air base reported.

PRAGUE MAYOR EXECUTED BY NAZIS

NEW YORK (AP)—Prague dispatch broadcast by the Berlin radio said it was officially announced today that Otakar Kalpka, mayor of Prague, sentenced to death for plotting rebellion, had been executed. The death sentence was announced Friday.

Dispatches from Prague said today synagogues in that city, capital of Bohemia-Moravia, had been closed by the German authorities, who charged the Jews had taken a special part in fomenting the recent waves of unrest in the protectorate. The synagogues were alleged to have been meeting places for "aggressive influences."

(The German military commander in occupied France announced today the execution of Rene Darreau of Vendome October 4 after conviction on charges of illegal possession of a revolver and 10 cartridges. Darreau also had distributed propaganda pamphlets hostile to the Germans, it was declared.)

Ship Cancellations

PANAMA, Panama (AP)—Informal quarters asserted tonight that the government had decided to cancel the registration of all foreign-owned vessels flying the flag of Panama if the owners arm them.

Deportation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Without word of debate, the House of Representatives this afternoon passed and sent to the Senate legislation directing the deportation of Harry Bridges, west coast C.I.O. leader.

The bill is identical with that passed by the House on June 13, 1940, but on which the Senate failed to act.

5 Executed

BERLIN (AP)—An official announcement in the Czech press at Prague today said five persons in Bruenn had been convicted of preparing treason and possessing forbidden weapons, and had been executed by shooting.

Vichy Ships Sunk

VICHY (AP)—The French navy ministry tonight reported three French merchantmen had been sunk by the British navy and said that one, the 8,194-ton freighter Theophile Gautier, was part of an Italian convoy when she went down off the east coast of Greece.

The ministry said the 1,370-ton Oued Yquem was torpedoed off the coast of Sardinia by a British submarine.

(There was no comment in London on these reports.)

It was the previous loss of the tanker Capitaine Baliani et Albert and the Oued Yquem which caused the ministry to accept an Italian naval escort for the Theophile Gautier, it said.

The announcement said the Theophile Gautier went down last Saturday with a loss of 20 lives.

To Save Salmon

VANCOUVER (CP)—An investigation of conditions controlling the passage of salmon up the Fraser River to spawning grounds in order to perpetuate British Columbia's $30,000,000 annual salmon fishing industry, is recommended in a report issued here today by the International Pacific Salmon Fisheries Commission.

The six-man board looked into a blockade last month in Hell's Gate canyon. Thousands of salmon milled in the rapids below the "gate," unable to get through because of improper water level. The situation was relieved later.

French Crews Released

NEW YORK (AP)—The German radio, quoting a dispatch from Vichy, reported today the crews of the French steamships Winnipeg, 8,379 tons, and Arica, 5,390 tons, were released today at Fort de France on the French West Indian island of Martinique.

The Germans recalled both French steamships were seized by British authorities at Trinidad four months ago. The crews were taken to Martinique aboard the United States passenger ship Evangeline, according to today's report.

Nazi Prisoners Recaptured

TIMMINS (CP)—Two German prisoners of war were recaptured today a few hours apart after enjoying only a few hours' freedom from a northern Ontario internment camp.

Fritz Fuchs, 34-year-old Nazi sailor, was captured in a swamp four miles from the scene of the break by two members of the veterans' home guard shortly after 2 o'clock this morning.

Karl Rudolph, 27-year-old merchant sailor, was recaptured a short time before noon less than eight miles from the camp.

No details on the capture of Rudolph were revealed here, but it was known Fuchs had not offered any resistance when the two guards, armed with rifles, came on him in swampy land adjacent to the railway tracks. The tracks parallel the main highway through northern Ontario.

The soldiers called on Fuchs to surrender and he walked out to the clearing where they stood.

Reports here said the prisoners' absence was noted at 6 o'clock Sunday evening. The break was discovered when a small boy living in a town nearby the camp noticed a man with a red patch on the back of his clothes running into the bush near the camp. The boy sounded the alarm.

(In Ottawa a National Defence Department source said it was believed Fuchs had engineered a previous escape from a Canadian camp and was overtaken before gaining complete freedom.)

GERMANS PLAN NAVY OPERATION

ANKARA, Turkey (AP)—Information was received here today that a German naval operation from Bulgaria is "ready to be launched." It was still obscure where it would strike.

Information came from an especially well-informed source that the Black Sea harbors of Varna and Burgas are "beehives of activity," with approximately 4,000 German sailors controlling the ports. Most civil activity was said to be suspended in these two cities.

One source, usually well informed, surmised the sea operation would be launched if and when the Germans break into the Crimean Peninsula proper over the narrow isthmus on which fighting is now under way.

Revision Conference

HYDE PARK, N.Y. (AP)—The temporary White House announced today that State Secretary Hull, Vice-President Wallace, five Senators and two House of Representatives members would confer with President Roosevelt in Washington tomorrow on revision of the neutrality law.

Minister Loses Post

VICHY (AP)—The French minister to Thailand, M. Garaud, has been dismissed for failing to support the Vichy government. Meric de Bellefon, former consul-general at San Francisco, has been named to fill the vacancy and will proceed at once to Bangkok.

New York Yanks Baseball Champs

EBBETS FIELD, BROOKLYN (AP)—The New York Yankees won the world baseball series today, four games to one, as they defeated the luckless Dodgers, 3 to 1, in a tense struggle marked by a near free-for-all fight between the rival players in the fifth inning.

"Tiny" Bonham, 200-pound Yankee mound star, subdued the Dodgers with four hits to best Whitlow Wyatt in a stirring pitching duel before the largest crowd of the three games here—34,072. Wyatt allowed only six safeties and struck out nine batters.

Yankees scored two runs in the second and Dodgers got to Bonham for their only score in the third. From there on until the final out in the ninth they got only one more blow off Bonham. Yankees grabbed their final run in the fifth, a home run by outfielder Tommy Henrich.

Big Mock Invasion

SIMLA, India (CP)—A surprise "enemy attack"—made before an actual declaration of war—opened large-scale war manoeuvres along India's rugged Northwest Frontier today, a day ahead of schedule. The frontier, India's "gateway from the west," is being subjected for the first time in its history to a big mock invasion.

HUNTING SEASON IN RUSSIA—Stealing from their hideouts in the hills as night approaches Russian guerrillas set out to stalk their Nazi prey. These deadly hit and run fighters, who face execution if captured, strike swiftly at lives and morale of German troops behind front lines.

Nazis Launch Big New Drive

Associated Press
A vast new German offensive, with Moscow perhaps as its principal goal and the siege of Leningrad subordinated, appeared to be emerging today on the long eastern front.

Authoritative sources in London said the offensive "on a very considerable scale" had been launched all along the front, with the possible exception of the Leningrad area, where German activity seemed to have dwindled.

The offensive may be the "gigantic" operation of which Hitler hinted in his Sportpalast speech last Friday. Berlin gave no indication of the goal of the new drive, but Dienst aus Deutschland, a commentary close to official circles, said the operations were so great as to be "similar to the opening of a new campaign."

There was speculation in London that the major objective was the Russian capital, with the attack developing especially from the area of Rostov, about 230 miles southwest of Moscow.

Russian Troops Fight Stubbornly

"There is evidence the Germans are making some progress but they are being stubbornly fought," authoritative London sources said.

"If there is any one salient where the pressure is greatest it would be in the centre area, but the drive is being pushed strongly in the south as well."

The reported ferocity of the battle on the central front focused special attention on that theatre, where it had been said recently the Germans were relatively quiescent and where Russian counter-thrusts presumably had been most successful.

The German high command, holding to a policy of secrecy, devoted most of its communique today to the Leningrad action, saying Russian attempts to land strong forces west of the second largest Russian city had been crushed.

STEEL FREIGHTER TO BE LAUNCHED

VANCOUVER (CP)—First steel freighter built in British Columbia under the wartime shipbuilding program will be launched here some time between October 15 and 20, Clarence Wallace, president of the Burrard Drydock Company Limited, announced here today.

(At Ottawa today it was announced the first similar launch in eastern Canada would take place at Montreal Thursday.)

The 10,000-ton cargo ship, first of its kind built on the British Columbia coast in 20 years, will be launched from the North Shore shipyard of the company.

"The ship has not been named yet," Mr. Wallace said. "That part of it is up to the British purchasing mission at New York. I expect to hear from them in a few days. She will go into the "Troops which were landed were wiped out or taken prisoner. Several fully laden ships were sunk, and 22 tanks, including seven of superheavy types, were destroyed."

Germans Say Azov Port Bombed

On the air front, the high command said a Russian port on the Sea of Azov was bombed, along with an important traffic junction west of Moscow and military objectives in Leningrad.

If Moscow is the major goal of the new German drive, Hitler might augment it by shifting some of the Leningrad siege forces if he is convinced the Russians can be contained there.

Some London war observers were inclined to ask whether the indicated Moscow push were not part of an elaborate sham to cover up the failure to take Leningrad "with the overwhelming swiftness" of which the high command once boasted.

London commentators expressed belief there was small chance of immediate change in the "stabilized" siege and defence of Odessa on the Black Sea—a city long since by-passed by the German drive through the Ukraine.

Continued fierce German pressure toward the Donets basin and Kharkov in the eastern Ukraine was acknowledged, but the subsidiary attempt to break into the Crimea through the Perekop Isthmus was said to have been eased by Russian counterattacks on the German flank there.

Enormous Losses Suffered By Enemy

A special Tass report from Leningrad today described the Germans as making huge sacrifices of men and heavy equipment in attempts to smash the defence line of the beleaguered city.

Taylor to See F.D.R.

HYDE PARK, N.Y. (AP)—Myron C. Taylor, President Roosevelt's personal envoy to the Vatican, will have a conference with the President at the White House tomorrow to turn over the information of "utmost value" which he said he brought from his recent trip to Rome.

Taylor, who returned by clipper Saturday, telephoned the President Sunday and was invited to go to Washington Tuesday.

water ready for installation of boilers and engines." Mr. Wallace said the ship was expected to be ready for service by the end of the year.

Gilbert Jukes of Vancouver Shipyards Limited, and Arthur Mercer of the Star Shipyards (Mercer) Limited, New Westminster, will leave here by plane October 18, for Ottawa to lay before the Department of Munitions and Supply a scheme to build 150 wooden cargo vessels here over a two-year period.

The two will represent 15 shipyards in Vancouver and vicinity, which have drawn up the scheme,

Fierce fighting on Leningrad's approaches has had no let-up, the Russian news agency said, reporting one Red air unit alone had destroyed 324 German planes in the long battle for the city, downing all in air combat on its approaches except for 48 wrecked on German air bases.

The dispatch said the Germans had launched repeated assaults in recent days against one sector but had to retire every time, losing several villages and "large numbers" of men and officers in Russian counter-thrusts.

Line Straightened Russians Say

The week opened with Moscow reporting Russia's armies entrenched in straighter and stronger positions than at any time since the German invasion began. Dispatches declared the troops had scored notable gains in the Ukraine sectors, as well as Leningrad.

Despite admittedly huge losses, the Soviet soldiers were said to have pushed the Germans back two to three miles on the southwestern sector, where the Germans stand at the gates of the Crimea.

But the Russians said the virtual no-quarter fighting of the last 15 weeks had taken a colossal toll of the belligerents.

Shifting to the southwest, where the Germans have overrun Kiev and a large part of the Ukraine, the Soviet war reports said a Red army counter-offensive was becoming broader.

On the central front, where Russian counter-attacks have regained considerable ground, the government organ Izvestia reported that several dozen more settlements had been recaptured by the Red army in the past week.

On one front, Izvestia said, nine villages were taken back in a seven-day fight in which the 123rd German Infantry Division and the 89th Regiment were routed, leaving 2,000 bodies scattered in fields and thickets.

Blimp May Rescue Devil's Tower Man

AKRON, O. (AP)—The blimp Reliance took off today for Sundance, Wyo., prepared to do a little aerial fishing to get parachutist George Hopkins off his Devil's Tower perch.

Pilots, after refueling at Fort Wayne, Ind., planned to spend tonight at Joliet, Ill., or farther west if the airship can make it. The entire trip is expected to take three days. A special bus, carrying a mooring mast, is following the blimp.

(Dispatches from Sundance today told how a ladder of iron rings and ropes inched upward on Devil's Tower in another attempt to rescue the daredevil from the tall peak, where he has been for five days. Four experienced rock climbers added rungs to the hemp ladder being built up the sheer formation. A crowd of 4,000 persons watched them Sunday.)

(Hopkins won a $50 bet by floating to the volcanic rock's comparatively small but flat surface.)

World Series

Yanks Win Eighth Straight Playoff

BROOKLYN—Today's victory of the New York Yankees in the world baseball series marked the eighth straight playoff in which the great American League club has finished on top. In that time the Yanks have won 32 games and lost 4. Last season the New York club lost out in the American League and were robbed of the chance to defend their world title, but now they are back on top of the baseball heap.

When the Yanks turned back Brooklyn 3 to 1 today, it also gave a new record to Joe McCarthy, manager of the champions. He has now handled six world series championship teams. When the Yanks won their other two titles they were under the leadership of the late Miller Huggins.

The series also saw Joe DiMaggio, Yankee centre fielder, grab off a new record with 19 putouts for the five games.

Dodgers pulled themselves out of a bad spot in the first inning with a smart double play. With Rolfe on second and Henrich on first and one out DiMaggio struck out on an intended hit-and-run play and Rolfe was caught sliding into third, Catcher Owen to Third Baseman Riggs.

After Brooklyn had threatened in their half of the first inning when Peter Reiser tripled but died on a two-run lead in the second, Charlie Keller, hero of yesterday's game, opened the frame by drawing a base on balls. Catcher Bill Dickey, who had been hit in the groin by a foul tip in the first inning, singled, sending Keller to third. With the count one and one on Joe Gordon, Wyatt made a wild pitch and Keller scored easily. Gordon drove a single off Second Baseman Coscarart's glove, scoring Dickey. Rizzuto forced Gordon, Pitcher Bonham fanned and Sturm was thrown out, attempting to bunt, to end the rally.

DODGERS SCORE

Dodgers broke into the scoring column in their half of the third. Wyatt lined a double into the leftfield corner. Walker flied to DiMaggio. Riggs belted a liner that struck Pitcher Bonham on the right leg and went for a single. Wyatt reaching third. Bonham limped a little but prepared to go on pitching. Reiser flied to Henrich in deep right field, Wyatt scoring after the catch. Camilli struck out.

Yankees half of the fourth was marked by protests by both clubs to Umpire McGowan at the plate. Wyatt and Manager Leo Durocher held the game up several minutes in a heated argument over calls on balls and strikes. Right after, Manager Joe McCarthy of the Yanks protested against a called strike on Pitcher Bonham, who was at the plate, with one away and two men on the sacks by virtue of walks.

U.S. Intermediary

Exchange of Civilian Prisoners British Proposal to Germany

LONDON (CP)—Great Britain today advised Germany of her willingness to effect a mutual repatriation of all British and German civilian war prisoners except men of fighting age, and proposed the United States act as intermediary. "In order that repatriation of civilians may be carried out with the least possible delay."

This announcement was made as the way was paved—by radio broadcast from government to government across the English Channel—for an exchange tomorrow of wounded war prisoners who have been ready to sail for several days from the English port of Newhaven to Dieppe. Wounded Britons are to be brought back.

FOR SEVEN DAYS

Trips across the Channel will begin at 5.30 a.m. tomorrow and continue through October 14. The war will be stopped in the Channel areas involved until the exchange of wounded prisoners is completed.

A note to this effect was addressed to the German government by Britain, which then added: "The British government reaffirms its readiness to agree to a mutual repatriation of all British and German civilian internees other than men between 18 and 60."

TO HOLD HESS

Rudolf Hess, former No. 3 Nazi whose spectacular landing by airplane in Scotland in May provided out of the greatest sensations of the war, is 47—in the age bracket not covered by the British proposal. There had been conjecture that his status may

HITS HOME RUN

Yankees moved two runs ahead again in the fifth when outfielder Henrich lifted the ball over the right field fence, 300 feet from the plate, for a home run. This inning was also marked by heated words between DiMaggio and pitcher Wyatt. After lifting a high fly to Reiser, DiMaggio made a big turn for second base and as he headed back to the dug-out he started talking to the Brooklyn hurler, who on his previous turn at bat had thrown a high pitch which made Joe drop to the dirt. The two started for each other and almost every member of the two teams and the umpires raced to keep them apart.

For the remaining three innings the teams dished up scoreless ball as both Bonham and Wyatt held the sluggers helpless.

A.F. of L. Board Backs All-out Aid To Russia, Britain

SEATTLE—Despite its unshaken hostility to Communism, the executive council of the American Federation of Labor will recommend today that every aid be extended by this country to embattled Russia as well as to Britain and China.

This was disclosed at the opening here of the A.F. of L. national convention at which is being decided the policy which will guide the federation's 4,569,056 members during the coming year.

The executive council's 200-page report, most eagerly awaited of any in the organization's history, tersely outlined labor's own foreign policy under the quiet heading, "The European Conflict."

JAPAN, NAZIS LINKED

But that its policy extends far beyond the boundaries of that bloody continent was indicated when Japan and Germany were linked together as "unjustifiable aggressors, each of them originating and carrying forward a cruel war against free people who sought only to live in peace."

China is commended for her "heroic defence" against invading armies, and the council declares itself in accord with the movement to extend assistance to the Chinese people.

With the unanimous indorsement of its members the powerful executive council recommended to the convention that it renew its "pledge of support and co-operation with our government in the completion of its national defence program and in its policy of extending full and complete aid to Great Britain and her allies."

FOR BRITISH AID

"We are in thorough accord with the lend-lease bill and with the policy of the government in the production and shipment of supplies for Great Britain and her allies," the report continued. "We urge our government to give to Great Britain all support and assistance possible and to continue to do so until Hitler and his allies are decisively defeated."

"We know that if Hitler and his armies are defeated, totalitarianism is dead; that if Great Britain and her allies win, democracy and freedom live."

"All of our problems and our lives in the immediate future will be overshadowed and dominated by the necessity of protecting our liberties and our institutions against the world-wide menace created by the efforts of a few nations to dominate adjacent people."

"Serious as this situation is, the American Federation of Labor stands ready to do its part in complete confidence that the spirit of a free people can not be crushed, and that victory will bring broader and more world institutions assuring freedom in life and work."

"Free democratic trade unions have been destroyed in all nations conquered and controlled by the armies of Hitler."

"Freedom and liberty have been destroyed wherever the German armies control the administrative affairs of nations."

"Dictator Hitler and his associates seem to be inspired by racial hate. Their persecution and destruction of racial minorities will stand out on the pages of history as the most cruel and indefensible of all their savage acts."

FAVOR AID TO RUSSIA

On its policy toward aid to Russia, the council states:

"The teachings and practices of Communism are just as noxious and unprincipled as the teachings and practices of Nazism."

"Soviet Russia is not the willing ally of the forces of democracy in this war."

"She was forced into the war and her present friendly gestures to Great Britain and America are dictated by desperation and hypocrisy."

The premise established, the report explains why, in the council's view, aid to Russia should be given.

"Frankly," it reads, "even though we may regard the Communist regime in Russia as the enemy of democracy, we cannot escape the fact that Russia is now also the enemy of Nazi Germany."

"Therefore, if Russia can defeat Germany or even delay the Nazi program of world domination, America would gain thereby. Practical consideration consequently makes it expedient that we extend such assistance as we can to help Soviet Russia fight the Nazi war machine."

"Our government should do this for practical reasons alone, and without the slightest pretense that the United States and Soviet Russia are friends or can be friends."

Hitler Plans Peace Attempt

By EDWARD KENNEDY

CAIRO (AP)—Hitler will make a new peace offer to Britain and the United States as well, before the year's end, according to information reaching here.

Hitler, says one American recently arrived from German-controlled territory, expects to be able within this time to announce Russia has been put out of the war and to state he is going ahead with his "new orders" on the continent and will ignore Britain except to carry out reprisals against her for any bombing of Germany.

The Germans expect Britain after a period of such a stalemate would accept a peace, this informant said.

The peace offer forecast is given considerable credence in both British and American diplomatic quarters here, but both are certain the offer will be rejected and that the war will go on.

NEW TALK

The American arriving from German territory said high Nazi officials whom he had known for years indicated the olive branch dangled again before Britain would this time be backed up with arguments which the Germans thought would make her consider accepting it.

According to this information, Hitler will concentrate Germany's full war-waging power against Russia in the next six weeks in the hope of making sufficient gains to tell the world he has put the Soviet Union out of the combat and crushed Bolshevism.

Attacks on Britain and the Middle East would be held to a bare minimum, while all the strength possible would be turned on Russia.

Hitler would then say he had fulfilled his mission and established Germany as supreme on the continent, and that he cannot be dislodged.

The American quoted the Nazis as saying the peace offer is likely to be backed up with an argument like this:

"As far as Germany is concerned, the war is over and we are going ahead with organization of the continent. From now on our only war activity will be reprisals.

"For every plane the British send over, Germany will send at least one over England. For every bomb dropped, Germany will drop at least one on England. For every German killed, we will kill at least one Englishman. We can hold out indefinitely."

May Stop Bonus For Coal Miners

NANAIMO—Edward Boyd, representative of the United Mine Workers of America here, today confirmed reports that the possibility of Canadian Collieries Limited discontinuing a cost-of-living bonus of 46 cents a day to its employees is under discussion. Company officials declined comment on the report.

Until recently the miners in district 18 received a bonus of 13 cents a day awarded under recommendations of the Britnell commission regarding periodic revisions of the cost of living. A new agreement brought them 46 cents a day under terms of the federal order-in-council P.C. 7440.

Labor Shortage Faces Canada

HALIFAX (CP)—Finance Minister Isley said today a shortage of labor is looming in Canada. The Dominion now has reached the stage "where the expansion in war production will have to take place very largely at the expense of the consumer," he said.

In an address at a joint luncheon of Halifax service clubs, he said further regulation of production, distribution and prices "will be inevitable if we are to prevent inflation and insure a fair distribution of what is left after war needs are filled."

"We shall not succeed, however," he added, "in achieving all we can, all that is necessary, if we do no more than obey the law and regulations."

We must co-operate actively, not merely submit to control. That co-operation will require a public-spirited self-discipline. It should be directed to doing more of the things that need to be done, to using less of the things that need to be foregone. We need the intelligence and skill of consumers as well as of producers and distributors in making the most of our limited supplies."

"We have accomplished much by expanding employment and production, and by diverting our capital producing industries to war purposes," Mr. Isley said.

"In doing so we have had to make the consumer go short on a few things—certain luxury imports, foreign exchange for pleasure travel, certain scarce metal goods. In recent months, however, the shortages of particular materials have been getting more and more frequent, more and more severe."

"We are finding it necessary to limit production of some consumer goods—automobiles, radios, refrigerators and washing machines. Other scarcities are looming up. The most basic of all scarcities—a shortage of labor—is developing."

Private Schools Elect Officers

The Vancouver Island Private Schools Association, meeting at St. Christopher's School, Friday, chose the following officers for the 1941-42 year:

President, K. C. Symons; vice-president, Miss Norah Denny, Duncan; hon. secretary, Capt. D. J. Proudfoot; executive, Miss Mary Ashworth, R. Knight and Miss Minna Gildea, Shawnigan Lake.

C. V. Milton, who has been secretary since the inception of the association, was made an honorary member.

Sir Heaton Forbes-Robertson addressed the meeting on the subject of the forthcoming Navy Week and was assured full co-operation by the private schools.

Holt Reports Are Denied

MONTREAL (CP)—The Montreal Trust Company, in a statement as one of the executors of the late Sir Herbert Holt, has denied reports Sir Herbert had transferred property to Nassau to an amount which would greatly reduce the succession duties payable in Canada.

The statement, signed by F. G. Donaldson, vice-president and general manager, referred to "reports over the radio and in the press" in relation to Sir Herbert's administration of his affairs.

"Sir Herbert transferred no property to Nassau except the money needed by him for the construction and maintenance from time to time of the property which he developed there a few years ago as a winter home," the statement said. It added "he took the position that such wealth as he had accumulated had been accumulated in Canada and would remain within the jurisdiction of the laws of this country."

The statement also said that the amount of Sir Herbert's estate had been "grossly exaggerated" and termed as "wild exaggeration" reports that succession duties from his estate would amount to $30,000,000 and that at the time of his death he controlled 150 to 250 companies.

INDIANS PROTEST LIVING CONDITIONS

VANCOUVER (CP)—August Jack Khahtsalana, 71, hereditary chief of the Kitsilano Indians, said today he plans to write chiefs of other Indian tribes in British Columbia urging them to keep their people home next year unless living conditions are improved in the hop-picking areas of the Fraser Valley.

Chief Kitsilano said he had just returned from the Fraser Valley where some 2,000 of his tribe are picking hops and declared the Indians were compelled to live "like pigs" in small, leaky shacks. Unless new shacks are built for next year's picking, he said, he will ask all Indians in the province to stay away from the fields.

Shorter Blackouts Urged in Britain

LONDON (CP) — Britain's bothersome blackout, suffered in silence for two winters, now is the subject of a wordy controversy.

The Russians started it all. Great interest was provoked here by word that Moscow has found it feasible to light up again. In the Soviet capital lights are dimmed, by a master switch, only when raiders approach.

British reaction is "why can't this be done here?" There are complaints about groping through the blackout, which already is more than 11½ hours long and will increase to around 16 hours by December 21.

Col. Josiah Wedgwood, Labor M.P., is the Parliamentary champion of the "lights up" campaign. He intends to start a fight in Commons, contending a universal compulsory blackout is unnecessarily slowing up production and transportation.

Moreover, he says it is bad for morale because "we grope and crawl and fear the unknown in the dark, like children."

A single relaxation in the blackout rule lately permits automobiles to use two slitter headlights instead of one. This helps some, but it still is pretty difficult. It is like having two candles on the front fenders to drive by.

Sounds of Sea Battle Heard on Brazil Coast

MARAGOGY, Brazil (AP)—Sounds of heavy cannonading at sea, reported by fishermen at Maceio during the week-end, led to belief here today that unidentified ships which apparently fought a 30-minute battle off the coast Friday had come to grips again.

The reports from Maceio, some 60 miles south of Maragogy, said the beams of searchlights were clearly seen stabbing the sky Saturday night as thunder as of gunfire rolled in from the sea.

Residents of this town of 3,000 many of whom said they saw ships off the coast Friday evening when similar sounds were heard, were convinced a running battle had been fought.

Former Mayor Ayres Coast, commenting on the Friday incident, declared: "I haven't the slightest doubt this was a naval combat, as shots characteristic of a cannonade

Archbishop Voices Support of Russia

LONDON (CP)—The Archbishop of Canterbury told the Canterbury diocesan conference today that "we may be proud of our new ally," Russia, because of the manner in which she is waging "the battle for world freedom" with "heroic courage and tenacity."

"The true self of Russia has just emerged," declared the archbishop. "Can we doubt that with this rising up of a whole people there will come a revival of their deep and ineradicable sense of religion?"

The archbishop foresaw "closer relations between, on the one hand, a new Russia, united by affliction and emancipated from the errors of the past, and, on the other hand, the British Commonwealth and the United States" after the war.

German Soldiers See Bull Fights

NEW YORK (AP)—The Nazis are luring bull fighters into occupied countries with fat fees in order to give German troops "battle-to-death" recreation, a well-known Mexican matador said today on his return from Europe.

Rocardo Torres, veteran of 300 battles, declared the drive to popularize the fights is especially intense in France, where several elaborate programs have been staged.

"The Germans know little about bull fights," he said, "but their officers seem convinced the show of blood is good for their spirit."

Brandeis, Noted U.S. Jurist, Dies

LATE LOUIS DEMBITZ
BRANDEIS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Louis Dembitz Brandeis, retired United States Supreme Court justice celebrated for his liberal views, died Sunday night at the age of 84.

Brandeis, who was appointed to the court by President Wilson and served for 23 years, suffered a heart attack at his home here last Wednesday.

His death resulted from a recurrence of the heart trouble which prompted his retirement February 13, 1939.

Brandeis was born in Louisville, Ky., November 13, 1856, the son of Adolf and Frederika (Dembitz) Brandeis. His father, a native of Praha, capital of Czechoslovakia, came to the United States in 1848 and built up a successful grain business.

The son went through the Louisville schools, and then studied in the Realschule of Dresden, Saxony. He entered the law school of Harvard in 1875, when Longfellow, Lowell, Dr. Holmes and Ralph Waldo Emerson still were on the college faculty, was graduated LL.B. in 1877, took a year post-graduate work, practices in St. Louis in 1878 and then moved to Boston.

On March 23, 1891, he married Alice Goldmark of New York. Two daughters were born to them.

FIRST JEW

The fact that Brandeis was the first Jew nominated to the Supreme Court, coupled with a background showing him a strong crusader for the laboring man, labor unions, protection of wage earners' insurance policies and a prominent figure in the Ballinger-Pinchot feud during the Taft administration, brought about a long controversy. The nomination went to the Senate January 28, hearing began February and the nomination was not confirmed until June 1, the vote being 47 to 22. He took the oath of office June 5, 1916.

He found a warm friend in Oliver Wendell Holmes and with him, Benjamin N. Cardozo and Harlan F. Stone, formed the "liberal wing" of the court. That bloc consistently upheld New Deal legislation from 1933 onward.

British Savings Reach $4,450,000,000
LONDON (CP)—Sir Kingsley Wood, Chancellor of the Exchequer, announced today contributions to Britain's war savings campaign had reached £1,000,000,000 ($4,450,000,000) in a little less than two years.

This represents about £20 for every man, woman and child in the United Kingdom, Sir Kingsley told a luncheon held to celebrate the achievement.

"Your task is now to aim for the second thousand million," Sir Kingsley declared—"not only to reach it, but to reach it in less than the time taken for the first thousand."

SALLY WILL WAIT
CINCINNATI (AP)—Sally Rand Says the fact Thurkei Greenough and his first wife had not yet been divorced merely meant more waiting before marrying him.

"Naturally I'm disturbed somewhat," Sally said. "One does not commit bigamy. But a woman like myself who has waited some 30 years for the real thing to come along isn't going to hesitate about waiting a couple of weeks, a couple of months, or even a couple of years longer to realize her dream."

Curtin Forms New Cabinet

CANBERRA (CP)—Labor Leader John Curtin organized a new Australian cabinet today with himself as Minister for Defence Co-ordination as well as Prime Minister.

Francis Forde, deputy leader of the Australian Labor Party, became Army Minister; J. B. Chifley, Treasurer, and Herbert Evatt, Attorney-General and Minister for External Affairs.

Mr. Curtin accepted the commission to form a new government last Friday when Prime Minister Arthur Fadden resigned after his government had suffered a 36 to 33 reverse on a vote of confidence.

Other members of the new cabinet are: Supply and development, John Beasley.

Minister of the Interior, Senator J. S. Collins.

Navy and munitions, J. M. Makin.

Social services and health, Edward Holloway.

Trade and customs, and vice-president of the executive council, Senator R. V. Keane.

Air and civil aviation, A. S. Drakeford.

Commerce, William Scully.

Postmaster-general and minister of information, Senator W. P. Ashley.

Labor and national services, Edward Ward.

Repatriation and war service homes, Charles Frost.

War organization and industrial research, J. J. Dedman.

Home security, H. P. Lazzarini.

External territories, Senator Donald Cameron.

Aircraft production, Senator Donald Cameron.

Transport, George Lawson.

The inner war cabinet will consist of Messrs. Curtin, Forde, Evatt, Chifley, Beasley, Makin and Drakeford.

The ministerial membership was chosen by ballot at a party caucus. Mr. Curtin, as party leader, then distributed the portfolios. This is the procedure prescribed by the party rules.

Unusual Charge Against Airman

BRANDON, Man. (CP)—A.C.2 Owen F. Davy, 18, of Galt, Ont., was on remand today on a charge of "effecting a public mischief," the first charge of its kind ever heard in a Brandon court.

He was arraigned Saturday and remanded for a week for preliminary hearing.

Davy reported September 20 he had been held up and wounded by a gunman while on his way from Brandon to No. 12 Service Flying Training School on the outskirts of the city. He suffered a shoulder wound and still is under medical treatment.

The charge, filed by Acting Chief of Police P. Barlow, reads that Davy "On September 20 at Brandon by making fictitious charges, falsely alleging he had been shot and wounded by an unknown person. . . . Caused police officers to investigate the false allegations and render subjects of the king liable to suspicion and arrest, and thereby unlawfully effected a public mischief."

In his report to police, Davy is reported to have said he was shot by "a thick-set, foreign-speaking man."

Reinhard Heydrich Once in Navy

LONDON (CP)—Frank Owen, editor of the London Evening Standard, describing Reinhard Heydrich, newly named chief of the German protectorate of Bohemia-Moravia, as a "petty thief turned major murderer," made his indictment of Heydrich the basis of an appeal for help in the struggle against Nazism.

Owen urged aid from "everyone who dares help us," but gave no further clue to what quarter his appeal was directed.

Reviewing the steps in the career of "this sleek Nazi lout," Owen described how Heydrich enrolled as a naval cadet and rose to become an officer in the German navy 10 years ago.

"But the men of the U-boats—the men who sank the City of Benares—found his morals dubious," Owen said. "He was too unsavory even for them, so he was cashiered from the navy."

Heydrich then joined the Nazi party, where there were "no questions asked." He served as a minor official in Königsberg, but one day "he got his books mixed" and again was asked to leave.

At this point, Owen said, Heydrich's "noble qualities" were recognized by Heinrich Himmler, chief of the German gестапо. Heydrich was named, successively, chief of the Munich political police, chief of the gестапо for Bavaria and finally chief of the gестапо for Hitler's own bodyguard.

He performed his "butchery" with such zest that whenever trouble arose in occupied countries the cry became: "Fetch Heydrich—he'll teach them the laws of the slaughterhouse."

Auto Kills Man

ABBOTSFORD, B.C. (CP)—Hugh Williams, 65, of nearby Aldergrove, B.C., died in hospital here yesterday about four hours after he was found at the side of the highway four miles west of here with injuries apparently suffered when struck by an automobile whose driver failed to stop or to report the accident.

Provincial police said another motorist discovered the injured man and brought him to hospital. They said he apparently had been dragged for about 16 feet after being struck.

MOVIES CROWDED IN LENINGRAD

MOSCOW (AP)—Reading-rooms of libraries are filled and movies are packed every day in Leningrad despite the war raging on its approaches, an article on life in that city in Komsomolskaya Pravda said today.

"The reading-room of Saltykov-Shchedrin public library is full of students, engineers, doctors and Red army commanders who spend many hours there," said the dispatch.

"The rail regularly delivers to the library scores of books, magazines and newspapers published in Moscow, Vladivostok, Khabarovsk, Tuva and other cities of the Soviet Union. Fresh issues of technical and medical journals recently arrived from Britain and America."

Composer Dmitri Shostakovich has just completed two parts of his seventh symphony, which is devoted to the war, Komsomolskaya Pravda said, and played it before a group of Leningrad composers.

More than 200 Leningrad actors regularly give concerts and performances at the front lines.

The Leningrad Musical Comedy Theatre and 20 moving picture houses play to full houses daily, the dispatch added.

The Ukraine has the densest railroad network of any part of the Soviet Union.

election normally due in November may not take place.

A move toward political unity in New Zealand is looked for by some political observers. Up to the past week-end it had seemed almost certain there would be an election next month, but a conference Sunday between Prime Minister Peter Fraser and S. G. Holland, leader of the opposition National Party, in which the war situation was canvassed, was said to herald a political truce.

Italians Claim Ark Royal Hit

ROME (AP)—A special communique from the Italian high command today claimed the 22,000-ton British aircraft carrier Ark Royal was damaged seriously by a torpedo from an Italian submarine after the air attack September 27 on a British Mediterranean convoy and has returned to Gibraltar at slow speed.

(Comment on this enemy claim was not forthcoming immediately in London. The Ark Royal in the past has often been claimed sunk or damaged by the Axis.)

The Italians asserted three of Britain's biggest battleships, the Rodney, Nelson and King George V, also were in the naval formation against which the Italian submarine attack was reported to have been made last Wednesday.

(The British Admiralty announced last week the 33,900-ton Nelson suffered slight damage in an air-naval attack on a British convoy. She is a sistership of the Rodney, both being of a type exceeded in the British navy only by the new King George V class of 35,000-ton battleships.)

The Italian communique asserted the strength of the British forces indicated the British ships were seeking a battle against inferior Italian forces. The convoy of eight or nine merchantmen was too small to justify such a display of force, it was said.

For the First Time

HISTORY IS BEING MADE IN THE province of Quebec today: Women are going to the polls for the first time to help to select members for the provincial Legislature. More than 10,000 of them are exercising their franchise in two by-elections—in Huntingdon and St. Jean-Napierville. In both constituencies it is a straight fight between a Liberal and a supporter of the Union Nationale party which went down to defeat under the leadership of Premier Maurice Duplessis two years ago.

In federal elections, of course, the women of Quebec vote on equal terms with the men; but in provincial matters this discrimination for long had been a bone of contention among the members of the so-called gentler sex. Mr. Adélard Godbout, however, promised his feminine compatriots that if he were given the opportunity of forming a government, he would remove the stigma which remained on Canada's ancient province. He led the Liberal Party to an overwhelming victory on October 25, 1939, and a measure extending the provincial franchise was adopted on April 25, 1940.

It took a war to persuade the government of Great Britain that the women were entitled to a practical "voice" in the conduct of their country's business. Until the Asquith ministry accepted Germany's challenge in 1914, two of the cabinet's intricate problems—there were others, too, of course—would not have been "votes for women" and the ever-present "Irish question." Common consent to a truce on the outbreak of war postponed their further consideration until the bigger job had been disposed of. The women got the vote in recognition of their magnificent service between 1914 and 1918, while the Treaty of 1921 placed relations between Britain and Ireland on an altogether different footing.

Until the Legislature implemented Premier Godbout's pre-election promise, however, Quebec was the only part of the self-governing Dominions in which a white woman was not allowed to cast a ballot in "domestic" parliamentary elections. The government leader took the view that women have a "primordial role" to play in helping to build his province's future; and he has emphasized during the progress of the by-election campaign just closed that the extension of the suffrage will have a beneficial influence on Quebec politics, because women are "an element of order in public affairs." The war now in its third year, moreover, will bring in its wake many issues in which feminine judgment will be of incalculable value as the impact of the aftermath makes its impression.

Second Billion Coming

CONTRIBUTIONS TO GREAT BRITAIN'S War Savings campaign have now reached $1,000,000,000, or $4,450,000,000, in less than two years of organized effort. This represents about £20, or $89, for every man, woman and child in the United Kingdom. These are the figures given at a luncheon in London today by Sir Kingsley Wood, Chancellor of the Exchequer, who said:

"Your task now is to aim for the second billion—and not only reach it, but reach it in shorter time than it took to reach the first."

One billion pounds is £300,000,000 more than the whole of Great Britain's national debt at the beginning of the war in 1914. It is approximately a seventh of the national debt at the beginning of the present conflict. It is considerably more than $1,000,000,000 in excess of Canada's national debt at the present time, and nearly half of the entire Dominion, provincial and municipal debt.

Sir Kingsley Wood's figures should be considered by every Canadian as the Dominion's War Savings Certificates new campaign enters its second week. If the people of the battered island fortress can begin on their second billion with stout hearts and high resolve, we should be able to do much better in comparison.

No Comfort Yet

GERMAN STRATEGY IN THE RUSSIAN campaign has worked well from the point of view of conquering territory and rendering useless many communities of important industrial value to the Soviet Union's defence in depth. But it has been clear that the Nazi high command soon realized the desirability of setting the stage for a winter campaign in the more comfortable climate of the Mediterranean and the Middle East. It is the aim of the British and Russian high commands in these areas to thwart as effectively and as quickly as possible these sinister threats of Hitler's plan.

Although large German forces continue to besiege Leningrad, Nazi generals have already shifted the force of their attack to the south where one army of driving panzer divisions is pushing east from Kiev toward Kharkov, while another pushes past the neck of land leading to the Crimea—with its Black Sea naval bases—toward Rostov in the heart of the Don coal basin. Simultaneously, Berlin's most astute diplomats are shuttling back and forth between Turkey and Bulgaria, Nazi advisers in Sofia last week forced the Bulgarian government to call up and arm 250,000 men ostensibly to join the attack against Russia. But it is the opinion of neutral diplomats in neighboring countries that Berlin wants to use the Bulgarians elsewhere—probably against the Turks, who are being pressed to allow Axis troops to cross their country in order to complete pincer attacks on the Caucasus and on Suez and Egypt. Once in Turkey, Germany would attempt to push down the Berlin-to-Baghdad Railroad to the rich Mosul oil fields and to Britain's great Middle East oil base in Iran. Turkey is still adamant; and the rising tide of revolt in all the occupied countries is not conducive to any plan to add new allies to the democracies.

But Britain has not been idle. Months ago the able General Wavell was transferred from the eastern Mediterranean to India, and within the last two months Britain and Russia have compelled Iran to allow their troops to occupy the country, assure a supply route from the Gulf of Iran to the Caspian over Iran's vital, though single-track, railroad. From its terminus on the Caspian, Russia will either build a short line to join its Turkestan rail system or transport incoming supplies across the Caspian in its fleet of modern fishing vessels. It is on this vital route—rather than the long trans-Siberian rail line to Vladivostok—that Russia must depend for delivery of the bulk of the British and American supplies which Lord Beaverbrook and Mr. Harriman have just promised to bolster her opposition to the Germans and to supply her expanding industries east of the Urals. It is one thing for Hitler to plan; but it is a horse of another color to make it work. Turkey and the ever-increasing power of the British forces in the Near and Middle East are aggravating the trouble which Russia's magnificent resistance in the south is causing the Nazi chief.

General Draper's Accident

FROM TORONTO ON SATURDAY CAME a dispatch telling us that Attorney-General Gordon Conant of Ontario had warned law enforcement officials under his jurisdiction that they must not "lend themselves to sensational journalism" in the case of Brigadier-General D. C. Draper, chief of police for the city of Toronto, who is charged with dangerous driving. The incident occurred a week ago last night, the police head suffering cuts and abrasions on both knees and an undetermined chest injury, according to the provincial constable who investigated the accident. The chief's car collided with another driven by a man from Peterborough, all the occupants of which being seriously injured, one woman with a broken leg and another with more or less serious hurts.

It all depends upon what Ontario's Attorney-General considers "sensational journalism" in newspaper treatment of an accident of this kind. A chief of police—whether he be a Brigadier-General, a retired Admiral, or a painstaking civilian official like Victoria's own Chief McLennan—charged with dangerous driving is not just ordinary news. Not that a former officer of high rank in the army should be considered fair game for anything more than just an appropriate reporting by the press. It is obviously unusual, however, for one charged with law enforcement to find himself in such an unfortunate predicament as that in which the official in question finds himself. While plain John Smith might not be considered of sufficient importance to evoke the solicitude of the Crown's legal head, General Draper, of course, will have equal access to the courts if injudicious reporting of his accident should transgress the strict letter of the law.

Notes

The R.A.F.'s newest bombers fly so high that Berliners never see them—which is all that Goebbels promised the people.

In the rarified air above 30,000 feet, they say bomber crews are unable to do the simplest calculations in arithmetic—like some communique writers.

"Pat Maitland," in the words of the Bridge River News, "is leaving a lot to the imagination. He spouts about the Grits. He says they are more interested in winning the election than the war. Many of us wonder what the Hon. 'Pat' is trying hard to do."

BEER OR GUNS?

From Windsor Star

Because ships are lacking, the Ford Motor Company of Canada Limited has fighting equipment piled high in Windsor. Others weapons and equipment are piled on cars, in sidings here and there through Canada. Bottoms are needed and shipping space is at a premium.

Not so long ago one military unit tried to get shipping space for an ambulance. It wanted the vehicle in England for use with the regiment. The request was dismissed because there was no room on the boats for an ambulance.

With these facts in mind, it makes strange reading to discover that a Canadian brewery is making alterations to produce beer for export. The beverage is to be sent overseas for consumption by Canadian soldiers in England.

We are not among those who would deny the soldiers their beer, but when ships are so lacking that mechanical equipment, gun carriers, ambulances and other weapons and materials of war have to be piled on the docks, surely it is something of a contradiction to be shipping beer to England. We have always understood that England was the home of good beer, yet Canada is to use valuable shipping space to send beer to the troops.

Surely guns will not be left on the docks so that beer can be sent to England, where there should be no shortage of beer.

RUTHLESS AGE

IT WILL BE a more ruthless age, the age of women. Make no mistake about that. It will be tougher and more bitter. Politics will become grim as we have never known it before when woman is struggling against woman. Men, after all, are soft, sentimental creatures, easily melted, swayed and swerved.

The kindly treatment of one political party by the other in Parliament and Congress is touching in the extreme. A kind of freemasonry exists among all politicians so that, while they may quarrel occasionally between themselves, they will invariably unite against the common enemy, the public. They form the strongest trade union in the world.

But women won't be like that. They have a stronger, braver and more callous nature and, more than that, a cunning which has hidden these harder things throughout the ages and almost blinded the world to their existence.

We need those qualities these days. We need a tougher-minded politics, and a greater realism. There is no tougher spirit than the spirit of the ordinary housewife who has to grapple with the facts of life day in and day out, while the politicians are dealing almost entirely with theory. There is no realist like the housekeeper, for there is nothing but realism in the handling of a small wage or salary.

Already it is largely a woman's world in North America. All men work to support women and all women decide the life, the expenditure, the diet and the very clothing of men. Why should we continue to maintain the fiction of men's control through politics, when all politicians are controlled by their wives? Turn the world over to the women and welcome. We're tired of it.

DISCOVERY

READING the magazines, I am constantly impressed by the infinite capacity of the movie stars. You take the new luminary, Miss Hayworth, who is at present the centre of the solar system. A few months ago no one had heard of her and, I suspect, Miss Hayworth had not heard much about anything either. But as soon as she becomes a great star all sorts of amazing things are discovered in her character. You have only to read the magazine advertisements to see the wealth of these discoveries.

It is learned (in a full-page layout in color) that Miss Hayworth has always used somebody's special brand of toothpaste. It is learned that all her life Miss Hayworth has believed passionately in somebody's special mattresses. (It is a matter of principle with her.) It is learned (in an advertisement costing $5,000) that Miss Hayworth, since infancy, has been devoted to somebody's breakfast food and was schooled at her mother's knee to believe in somebody's lipstick.

It is found altogether that Miss Hayworth has a breadth of vision, a grasp of facts, an artistic taste, an understanding of life as no one suspected before, not even Miss Hayworth. Really, it is wonderful what people have inside them if you can only bring it out. All that is necessary is an investment of a mere $1,000,000 or so.

TOBACCO AND BALLOON

IN THE UNITED STATES they are worried about the rise in prices. The Secretary of the Treasury proposes to limit profits to 6 per cent, keep prices down and distribute the hardships of the war fairly.

In the United States the cost of living has gone about 6 per cent over the prewar average. In Canada, as of August 1, it had gone up about 13 per cent.

Therefore, the need to control prices is twice as great in Canada as in the United States. It is greater than that. The cost of living here has gone up since August 1. It is going up every day. In British Columbia it is something like 20 per cent, according to the best information that the provincial government can obtain. Wholesale prices throughout this nation are up 27 per cent since the war began and all this gain will be handed on, in due course, to the consumer. We are, in fact, on the toboggan—or on the balloon, as you please. The question now is whether the gathering momentum of the toboggan can be stopped, whether the balloon can be deflated before it bursts.

Every week somebody in Ottawa announces that the government is going to do something vigorous and effective to hold down prices, but nothing happens. I wonder if the people really want it to happen, whether they don't secretly prefer the easy way of rising prices, rising wages and the semblance of more goods; whether they realize yet that inflation can only be avoided if they have less goods; whether they know that they must have less goods whether they want to or not.

WE STILL PREFER TO STAND

Man's one big mistake, according to Dr. Verne T. Inman, University of California anatomist, was when he decided to stand upright.

According to this learned scientist, man is really designed to go on all fours. When that first unorthodox caveman, back in pre-stone age times, or a couple of million years before that, decided to try standing and walking erect, he did all the rest of us dirt. Our bones and muscles aren't designed for that, according to this entertaining theory, and after we're 30, the muscles become flabby. Holding ourselves erect against our nature and by sheer will, we start to fall apart physically.

Maybe that's Hitler's great boon for the human race. He's trying to get three-fourths of it to go around on their hands and knees.

Folks who always look back know where they were but not where they are going.

ADOLF GOES BACK

When Adolf Hitler sent his armies crashing into Russia he chose almost the identical day of the year chosen by Napoleon for his invasion. By September 24 Napoleon was in Moscow; while the German armies this year were just winning their most decisive success.

Hitler himself turned homeward a little sooner than the little Corsican. He leaves behind him an army far from beaten. But the point is that he is back—and after saying that he never would be back till victory was won over the Red armies.

The Nazis may yet beat the Russian armies—and Britain may once again have to face the full fury of the Nazi attack alone. But Hitler has undoubtedly already lost one of the greatest battles of history—which is the battle of time. For not only did he have to defeat the Russian armies—to the point of making it impossible for them to launch an effective counter-attack against his own forces. But he had to defeat them this year.

It is ridiculous for Hitler to boast to his people that "the Russian armies are practically defeated already." He said the same thing within one week of the launching of his original attack, that "the Red armies are melting away into indescribable confusion."

Russia may yet be knocked out of the war—and it could happen even this year. The democracies would be the silliest sort of idiots not to keep that possibility in mind in deciding their own actions. But, as the first real snows fall from the Arctic almost as far south as the Black Sea the German armies appear to be no nearer a final knockout of the Red armies than they were on June 22.

And if there is one thing which almost shrieks its lesson to the reader of Russian history it is this: Russia has always had an almost unbelievable power of recuperation. She has never lost a war—so far as I can find—in which she began by retreating.

IS WINTER AN ALLY

I hear the professional military experts in the United States arguing these days about whether or not the Russian winter will help the Reds more than it helps the Nazis. That argument seems to me a huge joke. Anyone who knows our Canadian winters, east of the Rockies, can understand how the winter weather and the

GROWING SEEDS

From Vancouver Province

British Columbia produced 12 tons of sugar beet seed this year, and next year, it is expected, will produce about twice as much.

The seed is for use in Alberta, Ontario and Great Britain. British Columbia gets her sugar from Fiji, not from her own beet-fields, though, if she is able to grow beets for seed successfully, she ought to be able to grow beets for sugar. However, other problems than the problems of local production are mixed up with the matter.

The growing of beet seed is only one phase of an industry which has been to quite an extent a gift of the war to British Columbia. A number of specialists have been growing flower seeds in this province for some time and shipping them as far afield as England. More recently, vegetable seeds were added, and it is only a few weeks since the secretary of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association expressed himself as more than satisfied with the progress made in this province in the production of certified and registered seeds.

climate enormously favors the defence, and handicaps those trying to carry the extra burden of attack. Whatever drives men to seek shelter makes for defence—and vice versa.

I well remember—not only our own experiences in winter in the last war—but visiting a permanent military camp in the twenties in our own prairie country. A keen young professional soldier gave me a pungent five-minute talk on war and weather which I shall never forget.

There are, of course, two factors in Russia which modify the general fact that winter should prove—once again—Russia's greatest bulwark.

In so far as Germany's failure to progress as quickly as her generals expected was due to transportation difficulties—winter actually may facilitate the attack. As we in Canada know some of the new tractor-like machinery moves over frozen and snow-covered ground better than it does in summer conditions. Much of Russia—they tell me—has the same kind of gumbo which after one hour's rain even in July will bog down everything which tries to move on wheels—whether in Saskatchewan or the Ukraine.

Moreover, the deadly work of dive bombers in attack is actually facilitated by snow on the ground.

WON'T SAVE US

Winter won't save Russia—and Russia will not save us. Those are safe maxims for the months just ahead. Whatever happens in Russia there has never been a time in this whole war when it was so necessary for this country to throw everything it has into the struggle to beat Hitler.

If Russia holds, without much more serious loss, British Empire forces will certainly have to be all set to create a western land fighting front—not later than next spring.

If Russia cannot hold we shall soon find ourselves engaged in most difficult defensive battles—if not in Britain itself then certainly at one or both ends of the Mediterranean.

From all the evidence available as first real snow comes to Russia it seems sure that the Red armies will still be in there fighting when spring arrives. But it is already clear—if it ever was in doubt—that they are not going to win our war for us. Win, lose, or draw—what happens depends more than anything else on what we do about it—and whether we do it in time.

NO CASUALTY LISTS IN REICH

There are no casualty lists in the Third Reich. Typical of the Nazi method is the printed card sent out to the next of kin of the killed, which reads: "Your son (husband) will not be coming back. Heil Hitler!"

Value of a Life Not Lived

From London Spectator

The House of Lords was called upon to deliver judgment on the damages that should be awarded to the executors of a child of two and a half for loss of expectation of life. The child had been killed by negligence in a motor accident. The plaintiff had been awarded £1,200 damages at the Assize Court, and the Court of Appeal had affirmed the decision—but the House of Lords concluded that the appropriate damages were £200.

The Law Reform Act of 1934 laid it down that, in addition to awards of damages for injuries caused by an accident, the executor of a victim who dies in consequence of it may claim for expectation of loss of life; and the knotty point which the judges had to decide was the assessment in terms of money of the value of a life which had not been lived.

The argument which developed among the learned judges resembled the metaphysical dispute concerning the number of angels who can dance on a pin-point. Lord Simon was of opinion that the thing to be valued was the prospect of a predominantly happy life, and he advanced a doubtful argument to suggest that the prospect of happiness for an adult was more easily assessable than that of an infant.

The fact that the child himself, being dead, could not personally benefit from the compensation paid, and that the executors, who benefited, had lost nothing, did not enter into the legal debate; nor did the argument turn on the practical consideration that if a defendant has to pay for wounding a person it is reasonable that he should pay more for killing him.

In view of the metaphysical considerations with which alone the law was concerned—namely, the price that should be paid to a person who could not receive it for life which he has never lived—it is not surprising that Lord Justice MacKinnon should have concluded that the problem is insoluble.

AS SIMPLE AS THAT?

From Woodstock Sentinel-Review

Strategy of the war, as regards British operations, is up to the responsible authorities, possessed of information we do not share, and with their decisions we must be content, but the whole thing seems to be quite simple to the river people of the Belgian Congo, who have advised British missionaries as follows: "It would be easy to defeat your enemy if your tribe would all go upon a fast. Starve yourselves for two days. Being hungry will make you strong. When you feel at your strongest, take your spears and knives, get in your canoes and cross to your enemy's side of the river and kill them all."

Windsor Presents Wings to Fliers

PEKISKO, Alta. (CP)—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor Sunday drove to Claresholm, where His Royal Highness presented wings to the third class of graduates from No. 15 service flying training school of the R.C.A.F.

The couple were welcomed by officials of the school, and the Duke inspected a guard of honor of 100 men on entering the grounds. The Royal Standard flew beside the Air Force insignia. More than 5,000 residents of southern Alberta heard the Duke address the men and wish them "all good fortune wherever and in whatever capacity you may be called upon to serve in the future, and then a safe return to your homes and to your former occupations."

Following the playing of the National Anthem the parade was turned over to the Duke and Wing Commander A. C. Cowley, officer commanding No. 4 training command, Regina, introduced the Duke to the men.

BIG CHANGE

The Duke thanked the commanding officer for the invitation to attend the ceremony, and told the men he was "very impressed by the fact that this training establishment has only been in operation four months, and that this veritable township was but bare prairie land less than a year ago."

"I have officiated at many ceremonies in my time, but this is the first occasion on which I have ever given wings," the Duke said.

He told of the time 10 years ago when he took up flying in Britain, and said he "regretted that circumstances prevented my completing the course necessary to qualify for a pilot's certificate."

"... although I never got beyond the elementary stages of flying, I learned enough to realize that the insignia I am about to hand you represents months of hard work, both practical and technical, that you had to go through with in order to reach the high standard of efficiency which the giving of wings demands."

"This is a red letter day in the lives of all you graduates, and I congratulate you sincerely."

As they drove away a ringing cheer rose from the airmen and civilians. The weather was bright, although chilly, and on the way to and from the ranch, the Duke pointed out interesting points to the Duchess. She wore a pink coat for protection against a chilly wind, a royal blue dress with skull cap to match.

On approaching the Claresholm school, the royal car was met by Royal Canadian Mounted Police officers, who escorted the car through the cheering crowd to the parade grounds. The couple went directly back to the ranch.

FORMER VICTORIAN DIES IN ENGLAND

E. R. C. Wilcox of Vancouver has received a cable from England advising him of the death on October 2 of his sister, Mrs. Roger B. Hicks (formerly Miss Iris Cumberland Wilcox of Victoria), wife of Commander Roger B. Hicks, R.N., D.S.O. No details are known, but it is assumed her death occurred during an air raid.

Mrs. Hicks leaves two children, Jennifer, aged four years and Roger David, aged 18 months. Her husband is on active service with the British navy, and was honored by the King last February for his distinguished services as Commander of H.M.S. Vimera in the evacuation of British troops from Boulogne and the rescue of the crew of the destroyer Wessex.

Dead in England

Mr. and Mrs. James Mermod, 3340 Oak Street, received word from Ottawa Friday of the death of their son, Pte. Stanley James Mermod, who was in a petrol company of the R.C.A.S.C. in England. He was 19 years of age.

Pte. Mermod enlisted in June, 1940, and went overseas several months ago. No details of his death were given in the announcement.

Born in Victoria, young Mermod attended the Tillicum School. Besides his parents he is survived by three sisters, Evelyn, Lillian and Marion.

BLESS ME SUE! I THOUGHT MY APRON WAS WHITE... TILL I SAW YOUR RINSO-WASHED ONE!

You'll wonder why you were satisfied with anything else when you see Rinso-whiteness

GWEN: Believe it or not, Sue, this apron looked good and white to me till I saw yours. Now I feel quite ashamed of it. With all my washing experience, too!

SUE: Ah, but my apron's been washed with Rinso. GWEN: Rinso? I must remember that. Rinso not only gives a whiter wash but the whitest I ever laid eyes on!

SUE: You're right! And without scrubbing or hard rubbing, either! Clothes just soak clean in those rich Rinso suds.

GWEN: That means Rinso's safe. I guess it's pretty easy on fabrics too?

SUE: Yes indeed! Rinso gets clothes white absolutely safely. That's why it's safe for washable colors too. Use it, Gwen—I know you'll be pleased.

GWEN: I will—this next washday.

SUE: You'll never again be satisfied with anything else. Get the GIANT package for extra economy.

Rinso gives the whitest wash!

WEDDINGS

SMITH-EVERSTAN

At Garden City United Church Saturday evening at 8.30 Thelma May, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Everstan of Canterbury Road, was united in marriage to Robert Charles Chase, third son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Smith of Canterbury Road. The church was decorated with gladioli and chrysanthemums. Rev. W. Allan officiated and the wedding music was played by Miss Elsie Fryatt.

The bride, given away by her father, looked attractive in a gown of white triple sheer with shirred bodice and long full sleeves. Her long white veil was fastened with a coronet of rosebuds and carnations, and her shower bouquet was of pink roses and white carnations. Mrs. A. S. Ward, as matron of honor, wore a gown of lavender sheer with long full sleeves and lavender halo hat, her bouquet being of yellow and mauve gladioli. The Misses Eleanor Smith, sister of the groom, and Margaret Tippet were bridesmaids, the former in pink and the latter in blue net and flowered organdie with matching pancake hats. They each carried sheaf bouquets of variegated gladioli. Mr. Frank Smith, brother of the groom, was groomsmen, while Messrs. Herbert and Ernest Smith, also brothers, acted as ushers. During the signing of the register, Mrs. W. P. Brown sang the solo, "Because."

After the ceremony, a reception was held at 3275 Alder Street, where the happy couple received in an alcove decorated with white and pink gladioli and white satin streamers. A three-tier wedding cake centred the bride's table, which was also decorated with tapers and roses. The bride and groom left for a honeymoon on the mainland, and on their return, will take up residence on Tolmie Street. For travelling the bride wore a wine dress with matching accessories and a soldier-blue coat. Among the many wedding gifts was an occasional chair, the gift of the staff and fellow employees of the bride in the Standard Laundry, Victoria.

DOBBIE VROOMAN

A naval officer and his bride will make their home in Victoria following the wedding at Christ Church Cathedral chapel, Vancouver, Saturday afternoon at 4 between Mary Elizabeth Vrooman and Lieut. William A. Dobbie, R.C.N.R. The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Vrooman, Vancouver, and the groom the son of Mr. M. H. Dobbie and the late Mrs. Dobbie.

The Very Rev. Archbishop A. U. de Pencier officiated and the bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. E. L. Harrison of Sidney, V.I., while Lieut. James A. Macdonell, R.C.N.R., Victoria, was best man for the groom.

The soft blue of mountain mist was caught in the attractive autumn-weight two-piece frock worn by the bride. In the same lovely shade was her chic chapeau, rolled back from her forehead and drooping to her shoulders at the back. She carried a tiny brown Persian lamb and velvet muff to which was pinned a cluster of flowers in the magenta tones, and her other accessories were also brown.

Her sister had chosen for the afternoon ceremony a charming opalescent grey wool ensemble with hat of self-material, and a bright note of color was her corsage in vivid flame tones.

Following the reception at the home of the bride's parents, Lieut. Dobbie and his bride left for a honeymoon to an unannounced destination. For traveling the bride donned a dark brown caracul coat over her wedding outfit.

BARTON-McALLISTER

In the Central Baptist Church, Saturday evening at 8.30, Rev. J. B. Rowell, D.D., united in marriage Margaret Elizabeth, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. McAllister, 405 Michigan Street, and Leading Seaman Norman Barton, R.C.N., son of Mr. Sydney Barton, 2916 West 43rd Avenue, Vancouver. Walking down the aisle on the arm of her father to the strains of wedding music played by Mr. Alec Hall, the bride looked charming in an ivory satin gown with train and long sleeves, over which fell a fine net veil gathered to her head with clusters of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of gardenias, roses and carnations.

Attending the bride were her sister, Miss Cathleen McAllister, in a pale blue frock, with short sleeves, and Miss Vera Drew, wearing a pink sheer gown, both having floral doll hats in contrasting shades, complemented by shower bouquets of pink carnations, snapdragons and blue Michaelmas daisies. Mr. Joseph Edisson acted as groomsmen and the ushers were Messrs. James McAllister, brother of the bride, and Ralph Moss. The bridegroom's sister, Mrs. R. Gooche, Vancouver, sang "Because" during the signing of the register.

Baskets of gladioli, Michaelmas daisies and goldenrod made a seasonable background for the ceremony, the same motif being used in the private dining-room at the Dominion Hotel for the reception later, where about 60 guests were welcomed. Mrs. McAllister received in aqua blue Bengaline silk costume, with a wide-brimmed black hat, and the bridegroom's stepmother wore a becoming black velvet skirt and pink and silver lame jacket, both

B.C. Steel Mill Plan Progressing

British Columbia may soon get a plant for the manufacture of steel which can be used in its wartime industries. R. W. Mayhew, M.P., said today proposals for establishing such a plant on the coast are by no means dead.

"As a matter of fact I would say they are very much more alive at the moment than they have been in the past," Mr. Mayhew said.

(Months ago plans for a mill that would treat scrap iron and convert it into steel were advanced but made no further headway.)

Mr. Mayhew could give no further indication.

However there was significance in the words of Hon. Norman McLarty, federal labor minister, who, in his visit here during the week-end, said British Columbia should develop a basic steel industry to supply the needs of its war shipbuilding program.

Mr. McLarty said he regarded shipbuilding as this province's greatest contribution to the war effort.

Provincial authorities are also active on the question of steel manufacture. An expert report compiled by Arthur McKee & Co., Cleveland, Ohio, consultants, is now being studied by the government. It gives detailed costs, probable markets, and estimates of supply, for carrying out the full process of steel manufacture from the province's iron ore.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Chan Singh of Vancouver was injured fatally yesterday when he was pulled from the back of a truck by a dangling rope, one end of which became caught in the wheels while the other wound around his ankles. His death in a hospital brought Vancouver's traffic toll for 1941 to 32.

Rain-soaked cotton, if not too wet and damaged when picked, can now be restored to better condition by improved cleaning and drying devices.

INCREASE SHOWN IN WATER REVENUE

An increase of $21,093 was shown in city water receipts for the first nine months of this year over the total received during the similar period in 1940.

Receipts this year were $337,585 against $316,492 to September 30, 1940.

A gain of $12,630 was shown in September figures, the total for the month being $52,080 against $39,450 in the corresponding month.

During the first three-quarters of the year 309 new services were installed against 240 in the first nine months of 1940.

Increased receipts were offset to a considerable extent by heavy expenditure, Alderman Worthington stated.

THERE IS PLENTY OF COAL IN WESTERN CANADA!

But...

Man Power and Transportation Problems Must Be Overcome To Insure A Steady FLOW OF SUPPLY

YOU CAN HELP CANADA'S WAR EFFORT BY CO-OPERATING WITH US

Whenever public convenience and necessity seems likely to be threatened many people unwittingly make wild assertions about conditions which they have little or no information.

For that reason we are making some frank statements about the problems of the coal industry to allay any fears you may have and yet at the same time to urge caution in over optimism.

The coal industry has serious problems to overcome in the next few months. These problems are not by any means unsurmountable, providing we have your earnest and sincere co-operation. If we do not get this co-operation some may get coal, some too much coal, while others no coal at all.

First of all, there is plenty of good coal in Western Canada.

There is a definite shortage of skilled labour to mine the supply because of the war. However, we are laying plans carefully now to overcome any possible threatened difficulties, and we have every reason to believe we can cope with the steadily increasing demands.

HOWEVER

WE ARE NOT EQUIPPED TO MEET A PANIC RUN CAUSED BY COAL HOARDING.

WE MAY NOT BE ABLE TO MEET THE METICULOUS DEMANDS OF SOME BUYERS FOR FANCY GRADES DURING THESE TRYING TIMES, BUT WE REPEAT THERE WILL BE PLENTY OF COAL, AND IF ONE GRADE OR KIND IS NOT NOW AVAILABLE, SOME OTHER WILL BE. REMEMBER, THE WAR HAS PLACED OUR INDUSTRY AT A DISADVANTAGE JUST AS IT HAS MANY OTHERS.

SO WE ARE ASKING YOUR CO-OPERATION IN THIS WAY:

1. Do not ask for large deliveries of coal at one time—you may be taking coal from a much needed war industry—but place your season's order for the convenience of the distributors and producers.
2. Allow your dealer to advise you on grades of coal that are readily available. Dealers of recognized standing will play the game with you. If in doubt at any time consult the Collieries combustion engineer.
3. Have your furnace checked up now so that you can get the most heat for your dollar. Waste is unpatriotic.
4. Remember, coal gives economical, steady heat. Many people have never availed themselves of the opportunity of discussing their heating unit with the combustion engineering service offered by any of the Vancouver Island Coals dealers. This service is free of charge.

With your help we will get through with flying colors. Remember, when you are co-operating with these requests you are assisting one of Canada's vital war industries and helping to beat Hitler.

CONSCRIPTION DEBATE MOOTED

OTTAWA (CP)—Efficient distribution of available manpower and the conservation of raw materials for manufacture of war essentials are outstanding problems facing the government as it prepares to meet Parliament November 3.

Measures have been taken to meet the latter emergency, the latest being an announcement last week of restriction in the manufacture of such household articles as washing machines, radios, electric stoves and vacuum cleaners.

These restrictions not only reduce the volume of important metals and other materials diverted from war use to civilian consumption, but release skilled workers for war industries.

But several cabinet ministers have stated recently that a great army of industrial workers must be found between now and the time war production reaches its planned peak, which gives rise to relief in some quarters that the government may ultimately find it necessary to exercise its power to assign workers to whatever branch of production needs them most.

Rumors persistently circulate in Ottawa that there will be a conscription debate in the House but it has not been indicated from what source the demand could come.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King has not announced plans for the session but it is generally expected the present session will be prorogued formally November 1 and a new session opened by the Governor-General on Thursday, November 6.

Red Cross Notes

VISIT HOSPITALS

In the military and other hospitals throughout the British Isles, the Canadian Red Cross has successfully undertaken the tremendous task of visiting every patient who is a member of Canada's armed forces, and caring for his wants. A nationwide network of visitors has been organized around hundreds of hospitals so that no Canadian soldier, sailor or airman can feel himself forgotten. At frequent intervals he receives friendly visits from some suitable person who can chat about Canada and things Canadian.

This service is skillfully organized. As soon as a Canadian enters hospital, the Registrar sends a postcard to the Canadian Red Cross Headquarters in London. The particulars are card-indexed in the Records Department, which means that the man has ceased to be a "case" and has become a personal and welcome responsibility of the Red Cross. Sincere effort is made to meet every reasonable request of the patients. These range from invalid delicacies and supplying all kinds of extra comforts, to writing letters, doing a little shopping, solving personal problems, and so on. This service has now become so comprehensive that it is virtually impossible for any man in the Canadian forces to lose himself in hospital loneliness in the British Isles, and hundreds of letters from grateful patients bear proof of its keen appreciation.

The treasurer of Red Cross, Mr. N. M. Foulkes, acknowledges the following: View Royal Unit, proceeds from tea, $14; Gorge Unit, additional, $11; Dominion Hotel, collecting box, additional, $1.55; James Island Unit, proceeds from dance, $67.35; Sooke Unit, proceeds from card party, etc., $24; Superfluities Store, donations received, September 25 to 29, $3; North Saanich and Sidney Unit, additional, $52.90; Oak Bay Unit, additional, $44.75; St. John's Women's Auxiliary, for prisoners of war, $10; Oak Bay High School Junior class, additional, $2.

'Mr. JORDAN' FILM NOW AT CAPITOL

NEW PRESERVATIVE FOR FISHING NETS

OTTAWA (CP)—A new means of preserving nets, expected to result in important savings to Canadian sea and inland fishermen, has been found by two British Columbia scientists, the National Research Council said today.

Dr. R. H. Clark, head of the department of chemistry at the University of British Columbia, and G. Cave-Browne-Cave, formerly at the University and now chief analyst for the British Columbia mines department, treated nets with a solution based on chlorinated rubber.

British Columbia commercial fishermen who tested the nets have reported they were easier to handle and remained clean and easy to wash. Knots did not slip.

"Most important of all, the treated nets brought in catches that were equally as large as any taken in untreated nets," the council said. "Experience has shown that many other preservatives which have proved effective in preventing rotting of gill nets have been found to have a repellent effect on fish and are therefore useless."

The fisheries department has estimated the total value of gill nets used in Canada during 1940 was $5,741,000. Nets of average size cost from $100 to $150 each while larger nets may cost as much as $10,000.

Annual depreciation is marked in some localities nets last only four to six weeks. In others they may last for a season or even two. Cost of the new treatment is from $12 to $15 for an average net.

"Restriction of the supply of linen gill net twine because of the war has increased the need for a suitable preservative method," the council said.

A bang up-to-the-minute thriller-packed drama of war at sea with an intriguing plot and an all-star cast of famous screen names, "Neutral Port" comes to the Plaza Theatre today. Co-starring Will Fyffe, Leslie Banks and Yvonne Arnaud, it is the story of a tough, fearless old sea captain out to capture a German ship after his own vessel has been sunk by a U-boat. Giving a performance which outshines even his former characterizations, Will Fyffe is splendid as Capt. Fergusson, the skipper. In this topical story of Nazi terrorism at sea.

India Armies On Long Front

SIMLA, India (CP)—A message from Prime Minister Churchill stating that "during 1942 the armies of India, with their British comrades, will be fighting on a long front from the Caspian to the Nile" was read before the opening session of the Indian National Defence Council here today.

The message was read by Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell, commander-in-chief, who has just returned from important conferences in London.

"By so doing," the Churchill message added, "they will be barring the eastward progress of the war and thus keeping the horrors of Nazi invasion thousands of miles away from the plains of Hindustan."

The council was presided over by the Marquis of Linlithgow, Viceroy of India. It will meet for three days in secret session to discuss the expanding Indian war effort.

In a brief speech of welcome Lord Linlithgow said "for the first time representatives of the Indian states and the British in India have met together to consider a war position."

Alfred Duff Cooper, Britain's special co-ordinator for the Far East, is expected to arrive later in the week and may participate in the deliberations.

Successful Raids Against Axis

CAIRO (AP)—Successful raids against several sectors of the Axis siege ring around Tobruk were announced today by the British Middle East Command.

On the front east of the beleaguered Libyan port, it said, the Axis was forced to yield strong points, ammunition dumps were exploded in the centre and "in other areas considerable casualties were also inflicted on the enemy."

The communiqué said the Axis countered with heavy machine-gun fire "but this was rapidly silenced by our artillery and mortars."

In the frontier area, between

R.A.F. POUNDS BOULOGNE AREA

LONDON (CP)—Unfavorable weather conditions over the continent prevented Royal Air Force operations against Germany Sunday night, it was announced today, although British bombers pounded the Boulogne area of the French coast early today.

A communiqué said that over the British Isles there was some slight coastal activity by Nazi planes in the east and southeast of England. There were no reports of any bombs having been dropped.

The Boulogne assault came after British bombers had dropped explosives along the French coast shortly before last midnight. The British south coast felt the shock of exploding bombs and anti-aircraft fire.

To Launch First Wartime Freighter

OTTAWA (CP)—First unit of Canada's war-time cargo fleet will be launched at Montreal Thursday with Munitions Minister Howe and Mrs. Howe officiating at the traditional ceremony.

This vessel is one of more than 100 steel freighters on which construction now is under way in shipyards on the St. Lawrence River, the Atlantic and British Columbia coasts.

Ace in Russia

MOSCOW (AP)—British Pilot Carlton Hough was cited today as the leading ace of the Royal Air Force in Russia with three German Messerschmitt fighters to his credit. Two other R.A.F. pilots have reported to have downed two each. The combined Soviet-British squadron shot down 4 Nazi planes in September, nine of them by British pilots, it was related in Moscow press accounts.

Axis lines in Libya and the British positions in Egypt, it added, "enemy patrols were engaged and driven back" in further operations yesterday.

British Courage Praised By Editors

LONDON (CP)—Two Canadian editors today paid tribute to the British people for the manner in which they have stood up to Nazi raids.

They were addressing a luncheon tendered the visiting group of newspaper representatives by High Commissioner Vincent Massey. Four British cabinet ministers and other distinguished Britons attended.

B. K. Sandwell of Toronto and Canon J. A. Chamberland of Quebec stood up at their places at the long table at Dorchester House and spoke after Mr. Massey had welcomed the party to Britain and expressed the hope that transport would be made easier between Britain and North America.

Their audience included J. T. C. Moore-Brabazon, Minister of Aircraft Production; Arthur Greenwood, minister without portfolio; Viscount Cranborne, Dominions Secretary; L. C. M. S. Amery, Secretary for India; Admiral Sir Edward Evans, civil defence chief of the London area; J. L. Garvin, editor of the Observer; Major J. J. Astor, chairman of the Times; Major-Gen. P. J. Montague, chief of Canadian military headquarters, and Air Commodore L. F. Stevenson, chief of R.C.A.F. headquarters.

German Warships Use Bulgarian Flag

MOSCOW (AP)—Tass, official Russian news agency, charged today Germany is making use of Bulgaria's privileges as a neutral nation to further her own war aims.

Quoting "very reliable sources," the agency said in a dispatch from Istanbul that German and Rumanian warships and merchant vessels were plying the Black Sea under the Bulgarian flag.

The dispatch said several Rumanian tankers recently landed oil products at the Rumanian ports of Black and Mangalia under the protection of the Bulgarian flag and that five German cutters had been observed patrolling the Rumanian coast under Bulgarian colors.

"Thus the privileges and advantages of neutrality enjoyed by Bulgaria have in practice been placed at the service of German war interests," Tass declared.

AIRMEN TO GET LONGER TRAINING

OTTAWA (CP)—Initial training schools courses for pilots and observers will be lengthened to include about two weeks' additional ground school work, R.C.A.F. headquarters announced today.

"At initial training school, the boys get essential ground work, lectures, link trainer instruction, and so on," an air force spokesman explained. "The five-week course hasn't given them enough of this basic training so we've been continuing it at the elementary flying training schools."

"But at the elementary schools, the student pilots get their first taste of real flying, first with an instructor and then solo."

"By extending initial training, we shift some of the ground school work back from the elementary schools. It's the practice in the United Kingdom, where students spend seven weeks at the initial training wing, as the R.A.F. calls it."

"I need hardly add the change will ensure still greater excellence in air crew training under the British Commonwealth Plan." Specially emphasized during the added fortnight will be air navigation and aircraft recognition.

CURRENT COAST LEAGUE baseball playoff for the president's cup between Seattle Rainiers and Sacramento found the former out after another record in their record since the club was taken over by Emil Sick four seasons ago. If the Rainiers can whip Sacramento they will become the first team in history to score a clean sweep of all league honors, two successive seasons.

In fact only three teams have made such clean sweeps in the history of the Coast League.

The Los Angeles club of 1934, which is considered the best in league history, won both halves of a split season and then defeated an all-star team picked from the other seven clubs.

Portland won the race in 1936 and then marched through the President's Cup series with the loss of only one game, and the Rainiers last year won both the pennant and the post-season money series.

The Rainiers already have won three straight pennants, set a new minor league attendance record, set a modern top for a player price when they got $80,000 for Freddy Hutchinson and presented the league its most valuable player twice in four years . . . Hutch in 1939 and George Archie last season.

In their remarkable match horse race recently both Alsab and Requested were at odds on and not a few of the uninitiated asked "How come?"

Alsab paid $3.70. Requested would have paid $3.40.

The answer is simple. Betting was surprisingly even — $37,230 on Requested and $35,077 on Alsab, and all backers of Mrs. Albert Sabath's bargain basement colt could get was the total wagered on the loser minus the 10 per cent divided by the track and state and the breakage, the latter $38.33. The entire pool being $72,307, the association and state whacked up $7,230.70. It is an excellent illustration of how if the horses don't get you the mutuels must.

When you put up a dollar, you have only 90 cents going for you with a 10 per cent deduction. If you buck them long enough, the machines will get you without any help from the horses. Their nibble every time is enough to wear you out. All horse players must die broke. The mutuels make the old axiom even more certain.

Those who took a chance or Requested were encouraged by the price.

They expected Requested to be at odds on and then some.

Ben Whitaker's colt hit the high spots on New York strips. Outside of running a dead heat at Havre de Grace, Alsab's starts had been confined to Chicago. The son of Questionnaire beat him 13 lengths in running third at Hialeah last winter.

But obviously those who purchased tickets on Alsab fully grasped the extent to which the track record-wrecker had come on.

As great as the race turned out to be, it was a losing proposition to the association which put up $10,000 for the event.

The total pool was disappointing. The handle on eight races that week day was $1,204,640. $1,043,429 the previous afternoon which was a Monday.

About half of the habitual players don't fancy anything remotely approaching an odds-on favorite in a race between two steeds sufficiently evenly matched to be brought out for a match race, and especially when they are two-year-olds.

So a match race frequently is one of those rare occasions when a racegoer is more interested in watching the horses run than in betting on one.

That is the only way to beat the races.

Navy Wins Rugby

H.M.C.S. Royal Roads and Brentwood College opened the local rugby season Saturday afternoon, the former team scoring an 11 to 8 win over the college boys at the Brentwood grounds.

Standout in the battle was Jack Grogan of the winners. A former player-passport problem to be presented to Federal authorities. He refused to reveal details.

"We are lining up a brief," he said, "but one can't be too careful as to what one says in a situation of this sort."

(Major-Gen. L. R. LaFleche, associate deputy minister of National War Services, said last month that National War Services regulations provide for control over departures from Canada only in the case of men from 21 to 25 years of age, inclusive, who were single or childless widowers at July 15, 1940. Manitoba divisional board, however, has refused to issue passport authority to any hockey player.)

Patrick said he favors a suggestion that players under 21 years of age be recruited for service in the United States hockey teams, but he said he is doubtful whether much can be done along that line this year.

V.M.D. WORK OUT

The V.M.D. soccer team will hold a workout at the Athletic Park Tuesday evening at 7.

SEATTLE (AP)—All the fluke ninth-inning baseball breaks weren't confined to Ebbs Field, Brooklyn, yesterday—the Seattle Rainiers lost a tough game to Sacramento in the President Cup series the same way.

The two teams, with Seattle holding a 2 to 1 game edge, were southbound to Sacramento today to resume their four-of-seven games at Sacramento tomorrow night. Sacramento won in the 11th yesterday, 3 to 2.

In the ninth, Dick Barrett had two strikes on Bill Endicott, the tying run was on third base and two were out. Barrett uncorked a wild pitch. Clyde Klutz streaked for the plate and beat catcher Bob Collins' desperate throw to Barrett, tying the score.

In the 11th, after Barrett had been lifted for a pinch hitter, Chet Wiecek doubled off Ira Scribner, Barrett's successor. Wiecek then came home on Klutz's single to win the game.

The Rainiers won a double header Saturday for their two victories.

COLUMBUS CHAMPS

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Columbus possesses its third Little World Series championship in nine years — and the kid who clinched it will be perched somewhere in the stands at Brooklyn today, rooting for his big brother to come through for the Dodgers in the senior classic.

He's Harry (Little Dixie) Walker, centre fielder for the Red Birds and younger brother of big Dixie Walker, right gardener for the Brooks.

Little Dixie crashed a home run, with two mates on base, to climax a last-of-the-ninth five-run rally for the Red Birds Sunday and beat the International League Montreal Royals 9 to 8. The victory gave the American Association pennant and playoff winner a four to two victory in the wee series.

An important meeting of the Victoria and District Soccer League will be held tomorrow night at 7.30 at the Y.M.C.A. All teams are asked to have delegates present.

Owens' Error Gives Yankees Fourth Game

Keller Takes Hero Honors With 4 Hits

BROOKLYN (AP)—The strikeout that should have spelled victory for Brooklyn Dodgers in the ninth inning yesterday turned into a 7 to 4 triumph for New York Yankees and let the Bombers blast their way into a three-to-one advantage in the world baseball series.

The play that decided the ball game and perhaps the series itself was more surprising than any fiction and more heart-breaking than any melodrama.

This was the scene as 33,813 fans, sweltering in 90-degree temperature, saw it:

The Dodgers had driven into a one-run lead in the fifth inning on Pete Reiser's homer over the scoreboard with one on and Hugh Casey, a chubby righthander, was protecting the margin beautifully.

He came up to the ninth inning and made the first two Yankees he faced ground out to the infield. Then he got two strikes on Tom Henrich, and the crowd began pushing for the exits. He served a high, fast ball to the Yankee rightfielder. Henrich swung and missed. And that was the ball game—almost.

The ball sailed past catcher Mickey Owen and rolled back toward the screen behind home plate, while Henrich sprinted for first. He reached there before Owen ever picked up the ball. Casey got credit for a strike out, but Owen was charged with an error.

The Yanks lost no time in showing them that their reputation as bombers was well founded and that they needed only the slightest opening in the barricade to blast through.

Joe DiMaggio lashed a single into right field, and Henrich held up at second. Then Charley Keller stalked to the plate. He swung and missed two strikes.

Joe DiMaggio lashed a single into right field, and Henrich held up at second. Then Charley Keller stalked to the plate. He swung and missed two strikes.

This was the death blow, but the Yanks kept right on raging until they had brought nine men to bat in the final inning. Bill Dickey waited out a walk off Casey and then Joe Gordon drove a tremendous line double into left field for two more runs.

After that little Phil Rizzuto was purposely passed and Johnny Murphy, great relief pitcher of the Yanks who received credit for the victory, grounded out to end the game for all practical purposes.

Murphy mowed down the top of Brooklyn's line-up in succession in the last of the ninth to close the book on the most tragic world series boner since Ernie Lombardi, big catcher of Cincinnati Reds, sprawled helpless on home plate in the final game of the 1929 world series with those same Yankees, and let them run unimpeded to a world championship.

The struggle yesterday waged in even hotter temperatures than on Saturday, and with the packed stands resounding with the noise for which the Brooklyn fans have become famous, was fought as bitterly as any of the first three tussles of the series, even though the others were each decided by one run and this ended in a rout.

TAKE EARLY LEAD

The Yankees took to Higbe, Brooklyn's starting pitcher, like a long lost relative. They raided him for one run the first time they came to bat. Red Rolfe singled, and after two were out DiMaggio walked and King Kong Keller slapped a single to bring Rolfe racing home.

In the fourth the Yanks blasted Higbe off the mound with three hits and two runs.

Keller opened with a liner that bounced against the high fence in right center, 390 feet from the plate and 20 feet above the ground for a double. Bill Dickey was given the first of three walks he was to get during the game and Joe Gordon lined a single to lead the bases.

Rizzuto sent a hopper to Lew Riggs, who replaced Cookie Lavagetto in a general shake-up of the Dodgers' lineup yesterday, and forced Keller at the plate, but left the bases filled.

Atley Donald, righthander who started on the mound for the Yanks, fanned, but Johnny Sturm, the supposedly weak-hitting first sacker who has connected safely every game of the series, ripped a single for two runs.

This brought in the Dodgers' only southpaw, old Larry French, who made only one pitch and got the side out with the same sort of luck which had caused him to snare the Yanks in a double play when he made a relief appearance in the third game. He threw a ball that struck the ground to the left of the plate and both runners headed for another base, but Owen rifled a throw to Dolph Camilli at first and he in turn threw across the diamond to Riggs, who trapped Rizzuto with a throw to Peeewe Reese.

COME TO LIFE

This break seemed to bring the Brooks to life. The shaky Donald walked Owen and Coscarart in succession after two were out and Jimmy Wasdell, batting for French, delivered a double into the extreme corner of left field for two runs that put the Dodgers back in the ball game.

Dixie Walker opened the next inning with a two-base drive and Reiser followed immediately with his home run to send the Dodgers out in front and chase Donald out of the game.

Until the dramatic break in the ninth, Casey pitched good ball in relief. Durocher first called on the veteran Johnny Allen in the fifth after Wasdell had batted for French and he loaded the bases with a hit batsman, a single to Keller and a walk.

Casey took charge there and made Gordon fly out. The Yanks put in Murphy after Twink Selkirk had batted for Breuer in the eighth and he set down six men in order in the last two innings.

The Dodgers were on the run today. Herman, the second baseman whose outstanding play all season helped lead them to a pennant, was unable to start because of the strained muscles in his side. He tried to hit during batting practice and couldn't get the ball out of the batting cage.

Because of this Coscarart was inserted at second base and to offset his futile batting average, Riggs replaced Cookie Lavagetto at third. Midway in the game Durocher even removed Joe Medwick from his line-up to let Wasdell remain in the batting order.

Pay Tribute to Former Cage Stars

VANCOUVER (CP)—The British Columbia Amateur Basketball Association took time out from an election of officers meeting here over the week-end to salute former stars, killed or captured in the Canadian armed forces.

Dave Nicol, coach of the Victoria Dominions, moved that the association send a hamper to Ralph (Hunk) Henderson, former University of British Columbia ace, now an R.C.A.F. prisoner of war in Germany.

It was also voted that a memorial trophy be purchased in honor of Fred Harding, who was lost at sea, and Jack Taylor who died suddenly. Both were prominent Victoria cagemen.

Mert Gordon was re-elected president of the association and George Gordon, Victoria, was named first vice-president. Harry Johnston was appointed secretary and Joe Polly was named registrar. Walter Hardwick was re-

Bays Play Burrards

Lacrosse is back again. The champs of the B.C. coast, Victoria's James Bay club, will meet Vancouver Burrards at the Victoria Sports Centre Saturday night in a test game to give Ted Menzies an idea of how his team would stack up against Richmond when and if he challenges that team for the right to play off against St. Catherine's Athletics.

The Blue Bombers from the mainland are the team that played Richmond in the coast senior final and lost out by hair-breadth scores in the four out of seven series. Their manager, Ed Irvine, let it be known that he heard rumors that boxla on he suspected. This was emphasized when Vancouver Flyers, boasting a goodly amount of senior material, returned to the terminal city about a fortnight ago after taking two straight beatings from the Victoria club.

So, for that reason, Irvine is going to cross the straits with the strongest team he can muster.

"If the Bays can get past the boys I'm bringing over for Saturday night's game, they deserve to play Richmond," he said.

"Richmond can't refuse us if we get past the Burrards," said Ted Menzies.

CHRISTMAS CAKES OFF TO BRITAIN

A consignment of 520 pounds of Christmas cake is today on its way to cheer the bombed-out people of Britain. This generous gift was made possible by the success of the Games Night held Friday night at Gordon Head.

The party was staged in the St. Luke's Parish Hall under the auspices of the Gordon Head Red Cross unit, and friends from far and near helped to make it an outstanding success. Over $200 was realized, this being the objective needed to pay for the cakes.

NORMAL STUDENTS GET ACQUAINTED

Normal School auditorium at the week-end lost its lecturing atmosphere and presented itself in a gay, rollicking attire when students, staff and outsiders mingled in a "Get-Acquainted" party.

Class A planned the entertainment, refreshments and decorating. Autumn leaves hung colorfully around the walls of the auditorium, giving it an appropriate fall atmosphere. The party was started with a sing-song and later games were played in which everybody was divided into groups according to trees. The four west Canada table tennis champions gave an interesting demonstration of table tennis. A. Balano of the Normal School was presented with a prize for winning the tournament held at the school during the week. Refreshments were served. Dancing followed. Guests included students from Victoria College and men from the forces.

In the regular meeting of the Literary Society Friday afternoon, the Normal School students and staff were fortunate in having Madame Laufflin give an interesting talk on her experiences in the last war and part of the present-day war. Also on the program were two piano solos by Miss Armstrong, Miss Martin gave a resumé of the important news items of the week.

MORE AID COMING ON SCHOOL TAXES

The provincial government, Premier Pattullo disclosed today, intends to increase beyond $450,000 its special annual grant to municipalities to relieve land of school taxes.

The Premier said the exact amount to which the grant would be raised had not been decided. He explained that the province still had to have its financial arrangements with Ottawa on a fixed basis before this could be determined.

Under an act passed last session municipalities were given a distribution of $250,000 this year, to be raised to $450,000 next year. It is earmarked "as a measure of relief in taxation upon land for the purposes of education."

The Premier said this would be increased considerably, but it was too early to get down to a specific figure.

NO BLOOD DONORS FROM VICTORIA

The Victoria branch of the Canadian Red Cross will not ask Victorians for blood donations. At a meeting in Vancouver last week it was decided that starting November 1, the Vancouver branch would attempt to enlist the services of 6,000 donors to help swell the list of 100,000 requested by the Dominion government to supply blood for Canadian soldiers who might become wounded in overseas action.

Lt.-Col. R. S. Worsley, secretary of the Victoria branch of the Canadian Red Cross, announced this morning that it would be impossible for Victoria to start a blood donation campaign. He explained that the cost of sealing apparatus, to make possible the storage of blood serum while awaiting shipment to Toronto, was prohibitive. The serum would have to be stored until there was a sufficient quantity to ship to Toronto, where it would be dried and turned into powder for indefinite storage.

Also, he pointed out, Canadian Red Cross officials were confident that the required 100,000 donors could be raised in Vancouver, Montreal, Winnipeg and Toronto, and other western cities whose proximity to Toronto would make storage and shipment more simple.

Victorian Ideal Air Force Woman

"Mrs. Norman Kennedy of Victoria is the example in B.C. of the type of woman we want in the service," says F.O. K. Walker of Ottawa, first woman officer appointed to the Canadian Auxiliary Air Force, and head of the recruiting board now in Vancouver.

Mrs. Kennedy has been named recruiting officer for the Women's Army auxiliary in the Vancouver district. She is noted for her charm and gracious manner, says the Vancouver Sun in a front-page news feature with her photograph.

Among the 60 applying for positions at Vancouver in the C.W.A.A.F. was Mrs. R. Barclay-Ross of Victoria. Mrs. Barclay-Ross is commandant of the Canadian Auxiliary Territorial Service, but is quoted in Vancouver as saying she is willing to enter the Canadian Women's Auxiliary Air Force as a buck private. Two other Victoria women, Miss Anna Peden, and Mrs. D. M. Harris, appeared before the recruiting board.

There will be no harsh-voiced officers barking commands at quavering airwomen. Mrs. Walker, who is interviewing would-be officers, speaks with a friendly modulated voice, which expresses efficiency and intelligence.

The recruits will attend Haver-gal College, Toronto, to train for administrative work, discipline and R.C.A.F. procedure. They will learn to be office workers, cooks, dietitians, equipment assistants, fabric workers, telephone operators, clerks and hospital attendants.

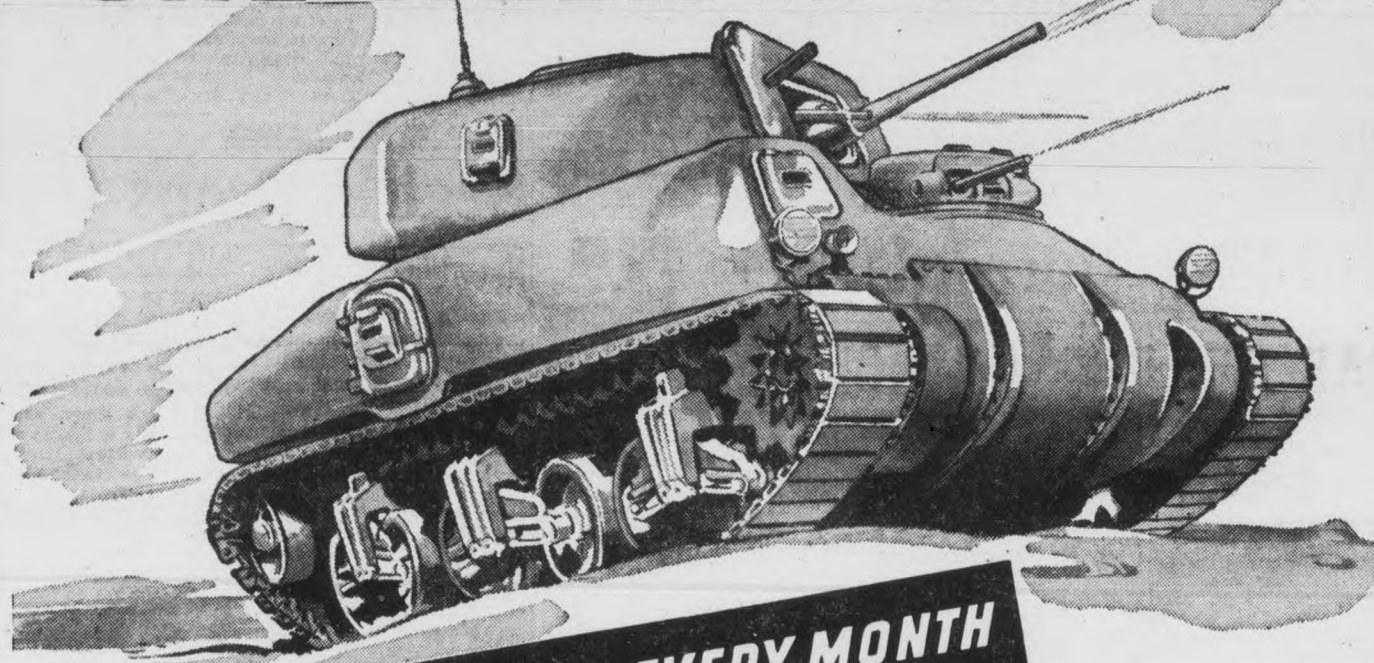

A number of instructors from the Women's Auxiliary W.A.A.F. in London, England, will be in charge of the C.W.A.A.F. until it is organized.

PROFITS AND WAR

You reprint an editorial from the Winnipeg Free Press, which makes the statement that in this war "there are no political scandals in connection with war contracts, and that there is no profiteering."

As to contract scandals, the people of Canada have not yet forgotten the affair of the Bren gun, nor that the only remedy for such scandals was urged by the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation in proposals for the direct national ownership of the manufacture of all munitions.

Clippings from your own paper afford me the means of making a categorical denial of the statement that there is no profiteering in this war. The Times of Aug. 16, 1940, states that International Nickel, for the six months ending June 16, 1940, shows a net profit of $18,060,293 in United States currency. The Times, Sept. 27, 1940, carries an exposure of a combine in the manufacture of corrugated boxes and related products. The Canadian woolen interests fought successfully to have the tariff retained against British woolsens. Questioned on the propriety or patriotism of such action in wartime, I make no doubt they would reply as your paper of Sept. 29, 1941, quotes Sir Herbert Holt, when asked "What is your justification of directors attempting, through the protection of customs tariffs, to earn 150 per cent on an investment?"—"It is the result of 31 years of good management."

While Canadian manufacturers are still allowed to retain 25 per cent of their excess profits, we cannot state that there is no profiteering in this war.

A leaflet of extracts from C.C.F. speeches in Hansard is captioned "Money Before Men." It is a motto I would commend to yourself and your readers.

CLARE McALLISTER.

ORTHODOXY AND EARWIGS

Your Mr. Phillpott has gone far on the road to economic logic, but could he not have gone a little farther? For example, he still retained the shackles of orthodoxy by a sleight of hand transformation of "debt to others" into "debt to ourselves." What does this represent other than an arbitrary good will which nature would have no part in?

Canada has tremendously increased her production by borrowing from herself—or perchance by using a little more of the beneficence of nature, raw materials and man's labor. Where does the borrowing fit in? Nature, I think, was quite satisfied, perhaps even flattered, by the labor done with her. Of course, economic orthodoxy can buy and sell next year's wheat crop, even profit by the transaction, but next year's wheat crop just isn't is. One cannot have something one hasn't. I know that orthodox answers: "But the money paid and received can be spent on potatoes and onions and they consumed;" they, however, are probably last year's potatoes and onions and have nothing to do with next year's wheat crop. They were paid for by being produced.

I picture Mother Nature standing amazed at the family of earwigs who, having benefited in varying degrees from her bounty of dahlias, insist on superadding a crop of claims, ordained as valid by earwigery-in-council, based upon the graciousness of some earwigs in having permitted other earwigs to climb a dahlia stalk and eat a leaf. Such claims usually consist in the acknowledged title of some earwigs, whose legs have been tired by the labor of donthingism, to be carried to their dahlia stalks by other earwigs, who thereby have to postpone their own breakfast.

After the war, what? Orthodox answers "production must be curtailed in order that more indebtedness may be repaid." The carrier earwigs must carry more and eat less, and dahlias will smother each other for want of a counter-irritant. A brick may be a brick, if we care to believe Mills, but when did a dollar, or the promise of one, become wealth, or the symbol thereof, before nature produced it?

WHO?

Your correspondent, W. F. Emery, complains that a text book of today disputes the beliefs of Christianity, which have endured for 2,000 years. Does not your correspondent know that the greatest prevaricators today are to be found among quack scientists and modern historians? There are some, indeed, who seek the truth, but there are others who seek merely to perpetuate "error and superstition."

This is taking place every day. For instance, what we see in our law courts, represents in miniature what takes place in history. No one is deceived by the simple statement of telling the truth, and nothing but the truth. Our libraries contain many "true" histories that are most damnable false. The printing press, like every other potential good, is turned into a positive evil by many vile and iniquitous beings. Is not the word propaganda debased from its true meaning? What do we hear on the radio? Who tells the truth?

SATAN VS. LUCIFER

Col. Moore-Brabazon, Minister of Aircraft Production in Britain, has been charged with expressing the hope that the German and Russian armies would "exterminate each other." Mr. Bullitt, American ex-ambassador to France, expressed a similar view when he stated recently that "Satan was now fighting Lucifer."

Taking for granted that "Satan" represents the aggressor, "Lucifer" would symbolize the Red Army. Had Mr. Bullitt previously consulted the Puranic scriptures he would have found the origin of the Lucifer legend, and would probably have been shocked to find his "Lucifer" identified therein with Venus, the Morning Star and universal light-bringer. In the Rig Veda Lucifer is represented as the opponent of ritualistic worship symbolized by the Lord of the Brahmins.

In another aspect Lucifer is the human mind: "Our tempter and Redeemer, our intelligent liberator and Saviour" from what would otherwise be a purely animal existence.

Jurists' Sons Called to Bar

James Allen Macdonald, son of Hon. M. A. Macdonald, Chief Justice of British Columbia, and George Frederick Thompson Gregory, son of the late Mr. Justice Gregory, formerly of the B.C. Supreme Court, were called and admitted as barristers and solicitors before Mr. Justice Fisher in Supreme Court here today.

Presented by H. G. Lawson, K.C., the pair were welcomed by Mr. Justice Fisher with remarks on his associations with their fathers. Mr. Justice Fisher recalled the arrival in British Columbia of the present Chief Justice and himself, their admission in 1906, the high standard of the examinations in this province at that time and the high fees that went with them.

He told the new barristers they were entering an ancient and honorable profession, recorded historically both in sacred and profane literature. Among the best of Chaucer's Canterbury Tales was that told by a man of law, he said.

He remarked on Mr. Gregory's study at Harvard and Mr. Macdonald's course at Osgoode Hall, advised them to show care in preparation of their pleadings and wished them success in their work.

Mr. Macdonald appeared in the uniform of an R.C.N.V.R. sub-lieutenant.

City Officials Hit By New Oil Ruling

Acting on instructions from oil controller G. R. Cottrell, the city today notified certain of its employees they would have to purchase their gasoline for cars used on city business from retail distributors.

The order applies only to half a dozen passenger-type cars used by city officials. Previously they had secured their supply from the city pump.

Under the new regulation the officials will be required to pay cash for their fuel and secure a refund from the city for the amount they spend at the end of each month.

Civil Servants Display Camera Art

Excellent examples of photographic art are on display in the rotunda of the Parliament Buildings this week. They are exhibits in a display by the Civil Service Camera Club, the first staged by the organization.

Seventy-five photos make up the exhibit, which attracted considerable attention today. They range all the way from contact prints from Brownie cameras to elaborate enlargements made with expensive equipment.

Control Chief Meets Builders

C. Blake Jackson, controller of construction in Canada, met local builders and architects at luncheon at the Empress Hotel today and discussed with them the provisions of the operation of legislation at present governing industrial and commercial construction.

The luncheon was tendered by the Victoria Builders' Exchange. Explaining the purpose of his visit, Mr. Jackson said he desired to get first-hand information of local conditions in the various areas to assist him in the work of his office and to familiarize the builders and architects with control and its workings.

C. BLAKE JACKSON

Reasons for control of civilian construction, as set out by order-in-council, it was explained by the controller, were to release for the war effort domestic resources of material and labor and foreign exchange, and to assist in the maintenance of employment and economic activity after the war.

"It is not our desire to operate the control in such a manner as to curtail unduly or unreasonably such an important industry as the construction industry, nor to contribute unnecessarily to the unemployment problem in any particular district," Mr. Jackson told the construction men. "For this reason, while endeavoring to follow a consistent policy, full consideration is given to local and area conditions."

TO MEET CHANGING CONDITIONS

"Although the government is desirous of building up a backlog of construction for the post-war period, we realize the desirability of maintaining, as far as possible, a certain flow of construction activity, and our policy will be adjusted from time to time to meet the changing conditions."

"I want you to appreciate fully, however, that it is becoming increasingly difficult to maintain any flow of civilian construction, particularly when it involves the use of materials critically needed in direct war work."

"Therefore, before starting any kind of construction work at the present time, you should give full consideration to the possibility of serious delays being encountered due to inability to obtain certain essential materials."

"Shortages are appearing from time to time in a diversity of materials and supplies, and it is not possible to foretell just where delays may be encountered. I feel you should be forewarned of possible difficulties."

Asserting that it was not an easy matter to administer wisely a restrictive system of this kind, Mr. Jackson said: "Mistakes and errors in judgment will be made, I have no doubt. All I can assure you is that to the best of my ability I am trying to deal fairly and intelligently with the countless problems that are being presented to us for consideration."

"It is of great importance, for our defence effort and for assuring the future resumption of the full Canadian way of life, that we wisely impose restrictive measures on many items that contribute to our daily existence. As the war goes on, these restrictive measures are becoming more and more important and the various controls will necessarily become more and more effective and varied."

Stores to Close Thanksgiving Day

Manufacturing plants and laundries, governed by the Factories Act need not close on Thanksgiving Day, but they must shut down on Remembrance Day unless they get a special permit to operate by reason of extraordinary circumstances or emergency conditions.

A. H. 'Scotty' Ford Dies Playing Golf

Well known in local golfing circles, Alexander Henderson "Scotty" Ford, age 54 years, died Sunday afternoon while enjoying a round at the Oak Bay links.

Playing a threesome with Dr. E. L. McNiven and John A. Rithet, Mr. Ford had just made his 15th hole drive when he collapsed. Death was instantaneous.

Mr. Ford had been a member of the executive committee of the Oak Bay Golf Club for many years and played golf regularly.

He had been on the staff of the local branch of the Bank of Montreal for 21 years and was in charge of the discount department. His connection with the Bank of Montreal went back 30 years. He had worked in branches at Moose Jaw, New Westminster and Vancouver before coming to Victoria.

Mr. Ford is survived by his widow and one daughter, at the family residence, 2099 Granite Street, and one brother, J. G. Ford of Vancouver.

Hayward's B.C. Funeral Company is making funeral arrangements.

HAD LIVED IN CITY 77 YEARS

Mrs. Mary Ann Higgins, a resident of Victoria for 77 years, died Saturday at St. Joseph's Hospital in her 88th year. Funeral service will be conducted by Rev. Hugh A. McLeod at the Thomson Funeral Home Wednesday at 2.30. Cremation at Royal Oak.

Mrs. Higgins was born in San Francisco and came with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Wilby, to Victoria in 1864. At that time there was no wharf here and the only way to get the animals they brought with them ashore was to swim them to the foot of what is now Fort Street. Mrs. Higgins often used to talk reminiscently of those early days in pioneer Victoria.

She was for many years a member of the First United Church and of the Women's Canadian Club, until advancing age limited her activities.

She leaves one son, John Henry Higgins, Foul Bay Road, and two grandsons, Pat and Robert, Victoria; one granddaughter, Mrs. McKillop, Seattle, and three great-grandchildren.

REYNOLDS—Funeral service will be held in Vancouver tomorrow for Frank Johnson Reynolds, 76, who retired in 1930 as Saskatchewan commissioner of child welfare, a post he had held for 21 years. Born in Montrose, Penn., Mr. Reynolds was employed with the C.P.R. for 20 years as telegraph operator, station agent and train dispatcher before joining the Saskatchewan government.

SCHALE—The funeral of Miss Josene Schale was held from McCall Bros. Funeral Home Saturday, interment at Colwood. The following acted as pallbearers: H. Johnson, W. H. S. Hunt, J. Burnett, B. Foster and G. P. Rogers.

WESTLAKE—Rev. George Biddle conducted last rites Saturday for Miss Emily Davis Westlake in Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel. Pallbearers: K. Rand, T. Mair, R. Johnstone, G. A. Montgomery and A. G. Williams interment at Royal Oak.

GORDON—The funeral of Gilbert Gordon will be held at McCall Bros. Funeral Home Tuesday at 2, Rev. Dr. J. B. Rowell officiating. Interment at Colwood.

WINTER—Funeral service for Robert Henry Winter was held Saturday in Sands Mortuary. Rev. G. A. Reynolds officiated. The following acted as pallbearers: S. W. Eastman, D. McLeod, A. R. Colby, A. Lock, S. Barr and R. W. Askey. Interment at Colwood.

Now Necessary

VANCOUVER (CP)—W. Lloyd Craig, director of trade extension for British Columbia at Ottawa, says a wooden shipbuilding program is a necessity, for Canada, not only to take care of war needs but to meet demands which would face the Dominion in the immediate post-war period.

Mr. Craig, here this week to meet Vancouver manufacturers, said that "on the basis of protection of trade in the years immediately following the war, Canada must have ships, Canada now has trade ambassadors touring South America but these envoys must have the goods and

S. H. Logan, president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, foresees an extension of the priorities system in Canada to the point where the government will rigidly allocate available labor and material supplies to the industries essential for carrying on the war.

"You have that in England now, and the trend is starting in Canada," said Mr. Logan, who is visiting Victoria today on one of his western tours which he takes every three years.

Mr. Logan said the priorities

already established by Ottawa, and other regulations, would serve as an effective brake against inflation.

The bank head said that while they may not be called priorities, the curtailment of manufacture in refrigerators, radios and automobiles, had the effect of diverting the materials and labor into essential war goods.

Mr. Logan is here with his wife, and Stanley Wedd, assistant general manager, and Mrs. Wedd. At the turning point in his tour he spent this afternoon angling for cohoes at Cowichan Bay.

TWO IMPRESSIONS

In his trip across Canada Mr. Logan got two impressions—first, that a ponderous industrial machine is turning up into huge production under the impetus of government expenditures, and second, that war has brought a measure of comparative prosperity to all groups.

"It takes a long time to start such a big machine on a new track," he said, "but when Canada and the United States really get going there are no countries in the world that can turn out as good materials as fast."

Canada this year is strained by expenditures of $1,500,000,000 for her own war effort, and $1,000,000,000 which she is giving in credits to Britain, but her economy can stand it, Mr. Logan believes.

"Payrolls are higher than ever before in our history. There can't help but be a relative prosperity. Taxation is high. Yes, but the answer to that is the people are making the money and they can pay it. The more we pay in taxes now the less debt we'll have to pay after the war."

It was three years ago since Mr. Logan last visited the west and he found the changes remarkable now that the country has swung into wartime economy.

COAST EYEOPENER

"Your shipbuilding on the coast is an eyeopener," he said. "I went through a yard in Vancouver the other day and what they're doing is unbelievable. I haven't seen your yards here yet, but I understand similar operations are going ahead."

"The expenditure of the money for ships here is going to mean a lot to British Columbia, and it also means much to the prairies. He said prairie farmers faced lower returns for their crops this year because of unseasonable rains which have held up threshing and are bound to deteriorate the quality of the grain. In Manitoba they have had the biggest rains in 20 years.

Mr. Logan said a 300,000,000 bushel crop on the prairies this year was equivalent to about 400,000,000 bushels in ordinary times because acreage had been reduced 8,000,000 acres. The crop was, therefore, generally fair, but because of the rains farmers would not get so much out of it as they would have otherwise. He said, however, airport development on the prairies and activity in machine shops and new industrial plants would make up for this in the general situation.

The facilities to deliver these goods to South America. "British Columbia yards are in a position to supply the needed wooden tonnage. The wooden ships would be constructed of seasoned lumber and with their very efficient diesel plants would make a large contribution to Canada's shipping needs," Mr. Craig said.

Gyros See How Firemen Work

In connection with Fire Prevention Week, members of the Gyro Club held their weekly luncheon today at headquarters of the Victoria Fire Department.

Ald. Archie Wills, chairman of the fire warden, in introducing Fire Chief Alex Munroe, said the Victoria Fire Department has not only cut fire losses to a minimum but has also, through its efficient work, made possible great savings, to Victoria citizens through reduction of insurance rates.

While the Gyros ate their box lunches, demonstrations were made under the direction of Capt. Robert Brindle, who described the significance of each piece of apparatus.

Entering the upstairs hall with air masks, two men showed how they work in a smoke-filled room. This equipment permitted them to breathe in a smoke-filled room, using air pumped through hoses by men outside.

The next demonstration showed the use of breathing apparatus independent of the outside atmosphere or pumping. This equipment included a mask and flasks of compressed oxygen. Two "victims" were "rescued" from what would have been a horrible death in a smoke-filled bedroom.

Next the respirator squad showed how artificial respiration was administered with the aid of an inhalator, and how injured persons were handled and carried by stretcher to an ambulance.

LOSSES REDUCED

In a short interval between the demonstrations inside and those with the equipment outside, Chief Alex Munroe said that fire prevention had been a problem ever since the fire which burned Chicago. He said that on the continent fire losses had risen rapidly until 10 years ago, when there was a sharp reduction, the 1938 losses being less than half those of 1925. This he attributed in part to the stress laid on fire prevention.

"The old theory that a good fire did a lot of good," Chief Munroe said, "is no longer held true. Any fire is an economic loss which can never be replaced."

The inside demonstrations complete, the Gyros moved downstairs and saw how firemen manipulated trucks, hoses and ladders during a fire. The Gyros were greatly impressed with the new aerial ladder.

Cripple Leaps to Death

NEW YORK (AP)—Ignoring the pleas of policemen, and in full view of hundreds of spectators, Matthew Lynch, 27, a cripple, plunged to his death Sunday from the roof of a five-story building. The man, police said, had brooded because his left leg had become virtually useless as a result of infantile paralysis.

Thanks Women For Woolens

A group of 20 Victoria women have been knitting woolens for overseas children and bombed out residents of London for over a year. A few days ago, one of the ladies, Mrs. A. E. Pellow of 950 Wollaston Street, received a letter of appreciation from Rev. George Bartle, who has a parish in the east end of London, in which he said: "I have just received the lovely box of knitted goods which I understand are the fruits of a great deal of hard work put in by yourself and your good friends. I need hardly say how much we, in London, appreciate your kindness, not only for all the things themselves, but for the spirit of good will and sympathy which lies behind them."

"We see many of the Canadian boys in London. They are very popular with our people, they all seem so big-hearted and carefree; yet I feel that they, together with our men, are just longing to have a go at the evil foe who has brought so much suffering upon mankind."

Light Hearings In December

Public hearings on electric light and power rates and services of the B.C. Electric Railway Company will probably start early in December, Dr. W. A. Carrothers, chairman of the Public Utilities Commission, said today.

Dr. Carrothers said data compiled by the commission's staff on its appraisal of the company's holdings would be made public about the beginning of November. Only a limited number of copies of the appraisal report are available, he said, suggesting that municipal corporations and others interested in examining the report should group together in getting their experts to peruse the information.

Start of public hearings would then depend on when interested bodies were ready to begin submissions to the commission, he said.

HOW TO RELIEVE PILE TORTURE QUICKLY AND EASILY

If you are troubled with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not delay treatment and run the risk of letting this condition become chronic. Any itching or soreness or painful passage of stool is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once.

For this purpose get a package of Hem-Roid from Modern Pharmacy and Cunningham Drug Stores or any drugist and use as directed. This formula, which is used internally, is a small, easy to take tablet, will quickly relieve the itching and soreness and aid in healing the sore tender spots. Hem-Roid is pleasant to use, is highly recommended and it seems the height of folly for anyone to risk a painful and chronic pile condition when such a fine remedy may be had at such a small cost.

If you try Hem-Roid and are not entirely pleased with the results, your drugist will gladly return your money.

Just send your card and will do for $1.00 Armo-Tabs free. No cost. No obligation. Just tell others if it stops your Asthma Coughs. Knox Company, 107 Knox Bldg., Port Erie North, Ontario.

Nelson Withdraws From Hockey Loop

LETHBRIDGE, Alta. (CP)—Only five teams will operate in the newly-organized Alberta British Columbia, interprovincial senior hockey league, it was decided at a meeting here yesterday at which the application of Nelson Maple Leafs was withdrawn.

Teams comprising the new league will be Lethbridge Maple Leafs, Calgary Stampede, Red Deer Buffaloes, Trail Smoke Eaters and Kimberley Dynamiters.

LONGEST GAME

NEW YORK (AP)—Yesterday's world series contest was the longest in history, two hours and 54 minutes.

The former record was two hours and 49 minutes by New York Yankees and Glants on October 2, 1936.

FINE FOR KIDNEY AND BLADDER WEAKNESS

STOP GETTING UP NIGHTS. LOOK AND FEEL 100%

Keep your kidneys free from waste matter, poisons and acid, and put healthy activity into kidneys and bladder and you'll live a healthier, happier and longer life.

One most efficient and harmless way to do this is to get from your drugist a 40-cent box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules (Dutch Drops in Capsules) and take them as directed—the swift results will surprise you.

Besides getting up nights, some symptoms of kidney trouble may be backache, moist palms, leg cramps, and puffy eyes.

Don't be an EASY MARK and accept a substitute—ask for GOLD MEDAL CAPSULES, the original and genuine packed in Canada—no fine kidney stimulant and diuretic. Look for the Gold Medal on the box.

Richmond Drops Game to Trail

TRAIL (CP)—Richmond Farmers, Intercity League lacrosse champions, and Trail Golden Bears will battle it out at Nelson tonight in a final and deciding game to determine who meets St. Catharines, eastern Canadian lacrosse final for the Mann Cup.

The third game of the best-of-three series for the provincial title was scheduled to be played here but the British Columbia Lacrosse Association switched the scene to the Nelson arena, which has better seating capacity, in the hopes of breaking even financially on the series. B.C.L.A. officials said there was a lack of support from Trail fans.

The Farmers and the Golden Bears have one victory apiece, the Bears trouncing the Coastal team 15 to 8 here Saturday night after dropping the first decision 18 to 14.

CALLS BLACKIE BACK

Coach Eddie Gilmore of the Richmond squad took a precautionary step today, calling on Blackie Black, who did not accompany the team here, to join his teammates for the deciding game.

Black, Richmond pivot, answered the call and boarded a train at Vancouver last night.

The Bears started piling up their points early in Saturday night's game, running up a 6 to 2 lead in the first period. They gave away only a goal advantage in the second and third periods and then outscored the coastal team 7 to 1 in the final stanza.

Big scorer for the Richmond team was Bobby Lee, recruited from New Westminster Adanacs for the final. He scored four of the Farmer's goals.

Bobby Kendall and Carl Galligan, with four points each, led the Bears' scoring parade, in which most members of the team shared.

FIREMEN CAPTURE CITY GOLF HONORS

Combined score of the firemen's team was 348, as compared to 354 for the city hall and 366 for the police.

Members of the winning team were Capt. R. T. Brindle, Lieut. C. A. Gwyer, A. Curran and Vic Painter.

Washington Drops Game With Oregon

NEW YORK (AP)—Alabama, Georgetown and Wisconsin suffered unexpected defeat Saturday as the football machines of Duke, Texas, Navy, Tulane, Notre Dame, Stanford and Ohio State gave new demonstrations of all-round class and Fordham's highly-touted Rams barely got past their first test.

Duke, clashing with Tennessee in the day's most important game of the new United States college gridiron season, crushed the Vols 19 to 0. It was Tennessee's first defeat in 35 games.

On the Pacific coast only Stanford's Indians, Rose Bowl champions, held up for the form players. Stanford scored almost at will against U.C.L.A. and won 33 to 0.

At Los Angeles, Ohio State handed Southern California an unexpected 33 to 0 beating. Washington was beaten by Oregon 9 to 6, while California's Golden Bears were victims of Washington State 13 to 6.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver Grizzlies, of the Western Interprovincial Canadian Football Conference came to life in the final quarter to defeat a picked American Army football club from Fort Lewis, Wash., 7 to 0, here Saturday.

The contest, witnessed by 1,000 fans, was played under American rules in the first half and under Western Conference rules in the last half.

Vancouver ran over for the only score of the game six minutes from full time when playing the coach Greg Kabat and Gordon

Margaret Passmore and Ted Tully took first places, in their respective divisions, in the first of 10 handicap swims which will be held throughout the fall and winter by the Y.M.C.A. The initial swim took place Saturday night at the Crystal Garden.

VALVES & FITTINGS

... we would have Food Shortages

Without modern food processing, canning and refrigeration, the vast agricultural and livestock resources of the Dominion would be unavailable to most tables . . . and to the galleys, cookhouses and messrooms of our fighting forces. Many staples would be rarely attained luxuries: nothing would be enjoyed "out-of-season".

Crane builds valves, fittings and fabricated pipe for many specific needs. To the food industry it supplies, among others, valves and fittings made of special chrome-nickel alloy, without corners or pockets in which food could lodge or decay.

In this, as in every other industry, Crane units carry and control the flow of fluids—of gas, oil, water, air and steam.

There are over 30,000 varied Crane units. Keeping them constantly available for our ships and railways, mines, power plants, oil refineries, chemical plants, armament and ordnance plants, which are operating on an all-out war footing, is part of Crane's national* job.

These three must take precedence

Fourth, as in peacetime, to guard the nation's health with adequate plumbing and heating equipment for home and institutional use.

Crane's four plants and Crane's workers are putting everything into this four-fold task. It is their contribution to Canada's all-out war effort.

Fenelon, Alsab Set Track Marks

NEW YORK (AP)—Two United States racing records were shattered at Belmont Park Saturday as William Woodward's unpredictable four-year-old Fenelon won the $50,000 added New York Handicap and Mrs. Albert Sabath's consistent Alsab ran off with the 71st Champagne Stakes.

Fenelon galloped 2 1/4 miles in the record time of 3:47 flat to win the longest stake race of the eastern United States campaign and $40,500. Alsab sped a mile over a track that was rated no better than good in 1:35 2/9 under 122 pounds. It was the fastest mile ever run by a two-year-old in America.

Carrying 119 pounds, less than he did when he was beaten by Lou Tufano's Market Wise in the two-mile Gold Cup, Fenelon outran Market Wise by two lengths.

'Y' Handicap Swim

Margaret Passmore and Ted Tully took first places, in their respective divisions, in the first of 10 handicap swims which will be held throughout the fall and winter by the Y.M.C.A. The initial swim took place Saturday night at the Crystal Garden.

3 Ships Aground

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Shipping circles reported today that three ships had grounded in a storm in the Straits of Belle Isle, but added one of them was now believed to be safe.

Beyond this statement, there was no other details of the groundings. Whether the ship considered "safe" had been released from the shore or merely was considered not badly damaged in the grounding was not indicated. The ships' names or their sizes were not available. (A story published in Saturday's Montreal Standard under "an eastern Canada port" headline said the ships were piled up on the Labrador coast and that two of them were total losses. The Standard said the ships, bound for St. Lawrence ports, were blown ashore in a terrific storm which lashed the area some 10 days ago.)

Navy Casualties

LONDON (CP)—The Admiralty today issued a list of 408 naval casualties caused by the "general casualties of war," and not connected with any particular ship or incident. Included are two members of the Royal Australian Navy and 56 members of the South African Navy.

Giovanni Polonio and chief officer Giovanni Boli were convicted also on charges of conspiracy to violate a federal code against tampering with instruments of a vessel engaged in foreign commerce, the other 13 were acquitted on the conspiracy charge.

Cadets Justify Navy League

HALIFAX (CP)—The organization of Sea Cadet Corps alone would justify the existence of the Navy League, Lord Beatty, chairman of the Navy League of Great Britain, told delegates to the annual meeting of the Navy League of Canada in a luncheon address here Saturday.

Lord Beatty, son of the late Admiral Beatty, said the corps at Winnipeg, with 400 members, was the largest in the Empire.

G. H. Rennie of Toronto gave a report on construction of the new Navy League hostel here. The league was commissioned by the Dominion government to establish the hostel for the use of men of the navy and merchant marine. It will be completed around November 1 at an estimated cost of $275,000.

VICTORIA HOSTEL

A report also was given on the hostel at Victoria which caters largely to men in training at Esquimalt.

H. R. Gillard of Toronto, Dominion secretary, said that of 5,000 Sea Cadets in Canada, 3,000 enlisted within three months after war broke out. It had proved such a valuable source for qualified personnel that the organization had been taken over by the Department of Naval Services, with training controlled by the Royal Canadian Navy.

Mr. Gillard said Navy Week would start October 19, and that this year's drive for funds would be included in the national war charities appeal next spring.

Rt. Rev. J. B. Skene of Vancouver, moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, opened the Sunday session.

H. E. Sampson, Regina: John Burns, Calgary, and Cmdr. C. T. Beard, Victoria, were elected to the Dominion council.

Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP)—Wheat futures held firm on Winnipeg Grain Exchange in light trading today. Final prices were unchanged.

October at 76½ cents, December 78½ and May 81½. Reports that United States milling firms had purchased up to 1,000,000 bushels of wheat in the futures pit during the last week gave the market a strong undertone. Southern buying in today's session, however, was light.

Traders said southern firms reported Canadian wheat can now be imported for milling in bond and exported from Gulf ports to Latin-American countries cheaper than United States wheat can be processed and sold as flour.

Englishman Studied Mallee Birds 99 Years Ago

Among the strange mound-building birds which are found on certain islands of the Pacific Ocean, and in Australia, are the "mallee birds." They are smaller than most mound birds, being only about the size of pheasants; other mound birds are nearly the same size as turkeys.

An account of mallee birds written 99 years ago has come down to us. It was prepared by Sir George Grey, an Englishman who visited Australia and set down a more careful record than had been made before. Here, in shortened form, are paragraphs from his notes.

"A hole which is almost round is scratched in the ground. It is about 18 inches wide and seven or eight inches deep.

"The hole is filled with dead leaves, dead grass, and so on, and much of the same material is placed on the ground around it. Over this the birds throw sand mixed with dry grass, until a dome-shaped mound rises.

"When an egg is to be laid, a hole is scraped in the mound to a point within a few inches of the nest of dead leaves and grass. Then sand is thrown in again, and the mound looks as it did before.

"Later, other eggs are placed in the mound in the same manner. At length there is a circle of eight eggs above the dead leaves and grass. All of the eggs stand upright in the sand.

"The male bird helps the female bird to open the mound and cover it up again. Even if the mound is robbed, the female will keep on laying."

When Grey said mallee birds "throw sand on the mound, he must have meant that they scratch up the sand with their claws. That is just what they do. Gravel, as well as sand, is scratched up until the mound grows large enough.

The rotting dead leaves give off heat, and the heat works to make the eggs hatch. The sand above the leaves has a temperature of from 85 to 90 degrees above zero.

Like other kinds of mound birds, the mallee birds do not sit on the nest. After the eggs are laid, they feel that their duty is done.

A mallee bird mound sometimes is from 10 to 15 feet wide. Mound birds of other kinds sometimes make much larger mounds.

HOROSCOPE

OCTOBER 6

Good and evil appear balanced in the forecast for today. Conflicting aspects may cause either success or the sudden reversal of plans. Important projects may be advanced at this time.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a fortunate year. Children born on this day may be generous and sympathetic.

METROPOLITAN Y.P.U.

More than 50 members attended the Metropolitan Y.P.U. meeting last week. A sing-song led by Kenneth Priestley opened the program. Charles Grath read the report of the Y.M.C.A. sing-song committee. The Metropolitan society will take the opening song service Sunday, October 26. It was decided to hold a bicycle hike on Thanksgiving day. Roy Allison made an announcement regarding the So-ed series.

Mr. Kent spoke on the bells of the church, and the members later enjoyed demonstrations of bell-ringing in the tower. An amusing quiz contest was conducted by the president. There will be no meeting on Tuesday, October 7, owing to the leadership training course.

BURNSIDE P.T.A.

The Burnside P.T.A. held its monthly meeting in the Burnside auditorium Wednesday. Burnside matters were discussed. Social activities followed and refreshments were served later.

DEAR MISS DIX—Why are married men so much more attractive than single men? I have never seen a single man that I cared for, but I like most of the married men I have met, and have fallen in love with some of them. So my problem is: Should I go out with married men as I do? They are the ones I prefer, and I think all is fair in love and war.

Answer: The lure of the forbidden fruit. That is what our First Mother fell for and she bequeathed her appetite for it to a lot of her daughters and granddaughters. There are loads of girls who are adventurers by nature. They love the bright face of danger. The more risky a thing is, the more fascination it has for them. If they had been born boys they would have been aviators, sailors, soldiers, discoverers, wanderers, tramps, steeplejacks, but denied by their sex this outlet for their restless spirits, they take out their lust for peril in flirtations with married men. They knew that they are playing with fire and that they are not only risking their good names but their life's happiness as well. They are gambling with their hearts for stakes and the fact that the game is so hazardous is what makes it fascinating to them.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a man who has been married a little over eight months. My married life is very happy with the exception that my wife wants to go and pay a visit of a few days to her sister, but I am not willing for her to do this. I hate to leave her even for the hours I am at work, and I think it unreasonable for her to be willing to leave me for a few days. What do you think?

Answer: I see no reason why your wife should not go to visit her sister. It will do her good to have a little change and make her appreciate you and her home the more. Nothing is a more fatal mistake than for husbands and wives never to be parted. They get fed up on each other. There would be fewer divorces if husbands and wives took more vacations from each other. DOROTHY DIX.
